'BETLESS' HORSE RACING OPENS AT MAXWELL TODAY

Sport to Be Resumed in This District for First Time Since
June, 1905.

'BOOKIES' AND TOUTS HERE
J. A. Murphy the Promoter and
H. S. Koppin of Detroit
the "Angel."

Personally conducted by Joseph A. Murphy of St. Louis and H. S. Koppin of Detroit, horse racing, with out recognized betting, announcements state, was resumed in the St. Louis district this afternoon, after having been practically abandoned since June, 1905.

A 10 days' meeting, which opened at the Maxwellton course at 3 p. m., has been announced by the promoters in conjunction with the "Missouri Breeders' convention," which will hold a session at the course to "discuss ways and means of promoting interest in the development of the type of horse suitable for army remounts."

"Judge" Murphy, who was the leading owner of horses at the time the racing was suspended, is at its zenith, and who since has acted officially at New Orleans, Eastern and Canadian race meetings, was busy yesterday placarding the fence and stands at Maxwellton with signs of warning against violations of the bookmaking law.

"Do you expect to be able to conduct a betless racing meet?" Murphy was asked.

"Just exactly that. These signs are meant. We will eject from the grounds persons caught holding money or making it plain that they are conducting public betting. Sheriff Louis Bopp of St. Louis County will have his deputies placed about the grounds and will arrest any violators of the law."

"How about persons betting among themselves?"
"There will always be a certain amount of wagering wherever there is racing. I recognize that. No doubt some bookmakers and handbook men will be at the track during the coming meeting. But we can't prevent that."

No Revenue From Handbook Men.
"Then the track is not deriving any revenue from the handbook men of the bookmakers at the track?" Murphy was asked.

"Not one penny. Some of the St. Louis speculators, like Becker among them, came to me and offered to contribute. I turned him down. Furthermore, I told him, 'it would please us better if you did not come to the track at all.'"

"Can you see your way clear financially to promote a betless meeting?"
"We figured that out at the start. We arrived at the conclusion that the meeting, to avoid loss, must attract an average paid attendance of 2500 per day for 10 days. Our expenses are:

Rent ($150 per day).....$1,500
Officials ($500 per day).....5,000
Purses.....27,000

Total.....$23,500
"Our receipts will be derived from concessions, the program and the paid admissions. Passing by the first two, we find that it will take a total of 20,000 men's tickets at $1.50 and 5000 women's tickets at $1 to cover our expenses—approximately."

Basis of Hope of Success.
"I base my hopes of getting this number of persons to attend the Maxwellton meeting on the fact that three of the days will be virtual holidays, two Saturdays and Labor day, on the fact that real racing has not been seen in this city for over 12 years; on the fact that racing is an amusement to a great majority of its followers, not just a betting proposition."

'Bookies' and 'Cappers' Here.
The presence in the city of several out-of-town "bookies" makes it certain that part of the betting fraternity expects to be able to do business at the track. Several "cappers" or "touts" have also arrived. They will not be permitted to operate, Murphy states.

In a sense the meeting will not be the enterprise, registered at the Jefferson Hotel yesterday from Detroit. He admitted he was the financial "angel" and stated that he was in the building business, but that he also owned several downtown picture shows in Detroit. He believes racing can be conducted without betting and wants to find out by experiment.

SKIPPER, 97, IS BRINGING SCHOONER ACROSS ATLANTIC

Crew of British Vessel Is Made Up of Youths Under Military

AN ATLANTIC PORT, Aug. 29.—A British schooner, in command of a skipper 97 years old and with a crew comprising youngsters under the military draft age, is on her way to this port, according to advices received by agents. The skipper, Capt. James Moore of Parramore, N. S. retired from active sea service some years ago but because of pressing demand for manila, he re-entered the service.

He is probably the oldest master of a ship on active duty today.

BABY BOY IS BORN ON TRAIN

Burlington Had Just Brought Mother
Into North St. Louis.

A woman who could not speak English, but who indicated her name was Mrs. Tom Kuz, became the mother of a boy on a Burlington train as it pulled into the North St. Louis yards this morning. She had boarded the train at Kansas City last night, occupying a seat in a chair car. She was accompanied by her 3-year-old boy and a 5-year-old girl. She became ill at Mexico, Mo., and was transferred to a drawing room. A physician on the train gave her medical attention. An ambulance was waiting at Union Station to convey the woman and her three children to the city hospital. Through an interpreter she said she was on her way to Madison, Ill., to join her husband.

WOULD REPAINT PIASA BIRD

Aurora, Ill., Man Makes Offer to Alton Board of Trade.

D. M. Humiston of Aurora, Ill., a former resident of Alton, has offered to raise money for repainting the Piasa bird on the Alton cliffs by publishing a book on the history of the bird.

The Piasa Bird, as is generally known, was a painting on the cliffs above Alton, believed to have been executed by Indians many generations ago. It disappeared about 1835, but some sketches of it remain. A few years ago quarry men blasted away that part of the cliff ornamented by the "bird."

Humiston has made the proposition to the Alton Board of Trade and asks them to work out the details. He favors having the surface of the bluff veneered with concrete, and having the bird carved on the concrete and the painting done in the carved lines.

14 Yale Men to Be Ensigns.

AN ATLANTIC PORT, Aug. 29.—The steam yacht Ananta which was loaned to the Navy Department by Wilson Marshall of New York City for the use of the Yale naval training unit has returned after completing its summer cruise. As the result of the two months' work 14 men have been recommended for ensigns.

CHAUFFEUR HELD AS SUSPECT IN WEHMEYER CASE

Woman Says He "Looks Like"
Man She Saw Running
After Killing.

HUNTING FOR THREE MEN

Police Hear They Were in Auto
in Vicinity of Murder Scene for an Hour.

Miss Florence Eichor of 3644 Herbert street today told the police that Tony Sansone, a chauffeur, of 2907 North Grand avenue, arrested as a suspect, "looked very much like" the man whom she saw running away after George H. Wehmer of 3815A Sullivan avenue, was shot and killed at 10:30 p. m. Monday, at the mouth of an alley on Prairie avenue, between Sullivan and Ashland avenues.

The police have established the fact that Wehmer was killed by one of three men who waited near the alley entrance to his home in a large black touring car.

They also announced that a license tag number given to them by witnesses as that on the car seen at the murder scene was the number of a license issued to Sansone. In Sansone's home they found a revolver of the same caliber as the one with which Wehmer was killed. It contained five loaded shells and had one empty chamber.

A man who fled from the alley after the shooting was seen by Miss Eichor, who observed he had black curly hair when he dropped his hat and turned it over to the police.

After a coroner's jury had returned an open verdict of homicide today Miss Eichor was taken to Police Headquarters to view Sansone, who had been arrested at his home. The hat was put on Sansone and she also saw him without it. He was ordered held for further investigation when she said he resembled the man she saw in flight.

The hat, which was of 6 7/8 size, seemed rather small for Sansone, and he commented on this, saying he wore a 7 1/2 hat. The cap which he wore at the time of his arrest seemed to be size 7, and to have been somewhat worn by wear.

Sansone denied he knew anything about the crime and said he could prove he was at Sixth and Chestnut streets at the time of the murder. Persons in the Circuit Attorney Dickmann heard of the result of Miss Eichor's visit to police headquarters, he ordered that Sansone be held without bond to await further evidence.

Search for Three Men.

A city-wide search for the three men in the black automobile has been ordered. The Dayton Street police learned that the three men drove to Spring avenue and Herbert street, two short blocks from Wehmer's home, about half an hour before the murder. They parked the car on the south side of Spring avenue, just west of Herbert street, and the three walked south on Prairie avenue and entered the alley where the shooting occurred.

A rear gate to Wehmer's home opened from this alley and the neighborhood told the police the automobile had been seen driving about in that vicinity for an hour.

Several witnesses said that immediately after the shooting was heard in the alley, two men ran out and went to the automobile and drove away. A third man then emerged from the alley and tried to overtake the automobile, calling to the men in it to stop, but they ignored him. This was the man who lost the panama hat which was found near Prairie and Sullivan avenues.

Wehmer's display of diamond jewelry is believed by the police to

LONDON HAS RECEIVED ONLY OUTLINE OF WILSON'S NOTE

Greater Display of Interest Anticipated When Full Text of Reply Is at Hand.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—Brief messages from the United States giving the purport of President Wilson's reply to Pope Benedict's peace proposals, but not going into details, were all that had been received on the subject in London up to mid-afternoon today. None of the evening newspapers as yet has commented upon the reply and none gives a particularly prominent place to the news.

It is anticipated that when the text of the note is received there will be a greater display of interest.

LOSS OF THIRD OF INTERNES HANDICAP TO CITY HOSPITAL

Twenty of 57 Have Enlisted in Medical Reserve Corps and Expect Orders to Leave.

Supt. Pringle of the city hospital today announced that the institution will be seriously handicapped shortly by the loss of a third of its internes, who have enlisted in the Medical Reserve Corps and are expected orders to leave today. Of the 57 internes at the hospital, 20 have enlisted. In addition, 10 graduate nurses of the hospital training school have joined the Red Cross and are also awaiting orders.

The depletion of the staff, Dr. Pringle said, will cause the charity patients to suffer as the hospital would be unable to give each patient the adequate amount of attention.

ASSAULTS DRAFT IN SPEECH FROM SCHOOL HOUSE STEPS

Man Said to Have Declared "Any One Who Goes to War Is a Fool," Is Arrested.

Thomas Carnell, a salesman, 27 years old, of 2715 Carver street, was arrested last night while haranguing a crowd of men and women from the steps of the Rose Fanning School, Grace and McDonald avenues. Persons in the crowd complained to policemen that his remarks were derogatory and inflammatory.

A warrant charging Carnell with opposing conscription was issued today by the United States District Attorney. Witnesses told the Federal agent that in his speech he declared "any man who goes to war, even though drafted, will be a fool."

GOMPERS URGES UNION MEN TO ATTEND CONFERENCE

Workmen Cheer Declaration That America Will Fight Until Militarism Is Crushed.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—So that the bopside labor movement of America may be represented at the national conference of the American Federation of Labor and Democracy at Minneapolis Sept. 5, President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor today directed all organizers to have local unions and labor interests send delegates.

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., Aug. 29.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, today emphasized the patriotic stand of American workmen in an address before the New York Federation here. The convention roared its approval of his declaration that America should withdraw from the war only when the military and imperial German Government is destroyed and freedom and democracy are assured to the world.

On the Carso there was no infantry engagement on the scale yesterday. South of the Vippach valley a night attack was repulsed. Near Biglia minor Italian advances failed.

Fresh and heavy engagements developed in the Monte San Gabriele district, and, thanks to the bravery of the defenders, among whom were Graz riflemen, Styrians and Hungarian territorials, the enemy, in spite of his heavy sanguinary sacrifices, nowhere succeeded in piercing our front.

Monte Santo, which was evacuated by us without fighting on Friday night, has been occupied by the Italians.

There have been numerous engagements of the highest importance and Helliggehaast and also to the east of Auzza.

German Official.

BERLIN, via London, Aug. 29.—German counter attacks yesterday drove the British from the indentation they had made in the German positions northeast of Frezenberg, on the Elanders front, army headquarters announced today.

In the Olitz Valley region on the Rumanian front, Teutonic forces stormed hill positions yesterday, says the announcement. More than 600 prisoners were taken.

Field Marshal von Mackensen's forces, the announcement also states, captured the village of Meel in case of an emergency; that it authorizes the purchase and distribution of necessities through governmental agencies, and that it will prevent hoarding and speculation and make it illegal to destroy necessities.

Whitman Signs N. Y. Food Bill.

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 29.—The State food control bill, introduced at the extraordinary session of the Legislature, was signed by Gov. Whitman today. The Governor says the bill does not authorize price fixing of foods; that any municipality may buy and sell food and fuel in case of an emergency; that it authorizes the purchase and distribution of necessities through governmental agencies, and that it will prevent hoarding and speculation and make it illegal to destroy necessities.

Doesn't Like to Shoot Cousins.

Drafted Man Balks at Killing Relatives in Teuton Army.

Harry Gile, 1219 Bayard avenue, a native of Austria, who has taken out his first citizenship papers here, appeared before the District Appeals Board in the Boatmen's Bank Building today and said that, although he had several relatives fighting in the Austrian and German armies, he was unwilling to fight. He wanted to know if the board could not arrange it so he would not have to face any enemy units in which his relatives might be.

"I don't like to shoot my cousins," he said.

ITALIANS ATTACK STRONG AUSTRIAN LINE ON PLATEAU

Powerful Positions, North of Gorizia Reached and Great Battle Begins.

RUSSIANS QUIT TRENCHES

Division Abandons Positions in Rumania and Permits
Teutons to Advance.

ROME, Aug. 29.—The Italian troops, pushing forward on the Bainsizza plateau, have reached a powerful Austrian defense line and are now attacking it, the War Office announces. On the heights beyond Gorizia the Italians made gains.

The announcement follows: "Fighting continued yesterday on the Bainsizza Plateau. After having overcome the enemy rear guards, our troops encountered and are at present attacking a powerful line of resistance which had been previously organized and which the enemy is defending with desperation. On the heights beyond Gorizia we made some gains."

Russian Official.

PETROGRAD, Aug. 29.—A Russian division yesterday abandoned its positions in the region of Fokshani on the Rumanian front and fled in disorder, the War Office announces.

The statement says that the enemy continued to advance all day yesterday on the Rumanian front.

British Official.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—"During the night we carried out successful operations in the region of Gouzeaucourt and southwest of Hulluc and captured a few prisoners," says today's official announcement. "Southeast of Lannemarch our troops cleared up a strong point in which an enemy party was holding out immediately in front of our new line."

The official report last night said: "A heavy rain has fallen today, the wind at times attained a gale force."

In spite of the rain and strong wind, our airplanes maintained contact with our infantry throughout yesterday's operations northeast of Ypres and successfully engaged the enemy's troops and transport with machine-gun fire. All our machines returned."

French Official.

PARIS, Aug. 29.—Violent artillery fighting is in progress on the Verdun front between Avoncourt and Hill 304, and on the Aisne front, the War Office announces. North of Courrières wood, in the Verdun sector, German reconnoitering forces were repulsed.

Austrian Official.

VIENNA, Sunday, Aug. 26.—Monte Santo, on the Isonzo front, was evacuated by the Austro-Hungarian forces on Friday night without fighting, army headquarters announced today.

The statement reads: "On the Carso there was no infantry engagement on the scale yesterday. South of the Vippach valley a night attack was repulsed. Near Biglia minor Italian advances failed."

Full Text of President's Note Rejecting Pope's Peace Plan

The text of President Wilson's note rejecting the Pope's peace proposal is as follows:

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.
"August 27, 1917.

"To His Holiness Benedict XV Pope.

"In acknowledgment of the communication of Your Holiness to the belligerent peoples, dated Aug. 1, 1917, the President of the United States requests me to transmit the following reply:

"Every heart that has not been blinded and hardened by this terrible war must be touched by this moving appeal of His Holiness, the Pope, must feel the dignity and force of the humane and generous motives which prompted it, and must fervently wish that we might take the path of peace he so persuasively points out. But it would be folly to take it if it does not in fact lead to the goal he proposes. Our response must be based upon the stern facts and upon nothing else. It is not a mere cessation of arms he desires; it is a stable and enduring peace. This agony must not be gone through with again and it must be a matter of very sober judgment what will insure us against it.

"His Holiness in substance proposes that we return to the status quo ante bellum, and that there be a general condemnation, disarmament, and a concert of actions, based upon acceptance of the principle of arbitration, that by a similar concert freedom of the seas be established; and that the territorial claims of France and Italy, the perplexing problems of the Balkan states and the restitution of Poland be left to such conciliatory adjustments as may be possible in the new temper of such a peace, due regard being paid to the aspirations of the peoples whose political fortunes and affiliations will be involved.

"It is manifest that no part of this program can be successfully carried out unless the restitution of the status quo ante furnishes a firm and satisfactory basis for it.

States the Object of the War.

"The object of this war is to deliver the free peoples of the world from the menace and the actual power of a vast military establishment controlled by an irresponsible Government which, having secretly planned to dominate the world, proceeded to carry the plan out without regard either to the sacred obligations of treaty or the long established practices and long cherished principles of international action and honor; which chose its own time for the war; delivered its blow fiercely and suddenly, stopped at no barrier either of law or of mercy; swept a whole continent within the tide of blood—not the blood of soldiers only, but the blood of innocent women and children also, and of the helpless poor—and now stands balked, but not defeated, the enemy of four-fifths of the world.

"This power is not the German people. It is the ruthless master of the German people. It is no business of ours how that great people came under its control or submitted with temporary zest to the domination of its purpose; but it is our business to see to it that the history of the rest of the world is no longer left to its handling.

"To deal with such a power by way of peace upon the plan proposed by His Holiness the Pope, would, so far as we can see, involve a recognition of its strength and a renewal of its policy; would make it necessary to create a permanent hostile combination of nations against the German people, who are its instruments, and would result in abandoning the newborn Russia to the intrigues, the manifold subtle interference, and the certain counter-revolution which would be attempted by all the malign influences to which the German Government has of late accustomed the world. Can peace be based upon a restitution of its power or upon any word of honor it could pledge in a treaty of settlement and accommodation?

"Responsible statesmen must now everywhere see, if they never saw before, that no peace can rest securely upon political or economic restrictions meant to benefit some nations and cripple or embarrass others, upon vindictive action of any sort, or any kind of revenge or deliberate injury.

America Has Suffered Wrong.

"The American people have suffered intolerable wrongs at the hands of the imperial German Government, but they desire no reprisals upon the German people, who have themselves suffered all things in this war, which they did not choose. They believe that peace should rest upon the rights of peoples, not the rights of Governments—the rights of peoples great or small, weak or powerful—their EQUAL right to freedom and security and self government and to a participation upon fair terms in the economic opportunities in the world—the German people, of course, included, if they will accept equality and not seek domination.

"The test, therefore, of every plan of peace is this: Is it based upon the faith of all the peoples involved or merely upon the word of an ambitious and intriguing Government on the one hand, and of a group of free peoples on the other? This is a test which goes to the root of the matter; and it is the test which must be applied.

"The purposes of the United States in this war are known to the whole world—to every people to whom the truth has been permitted to come. They do not need to be stated again. We seek no material advantage of any kind. We believe that intolerable wrongs done in this war by the furie and brutal power of the imperial German Government ought to be repaired, but not at the expense of the sovereignty of any people—rather a vindication of the sovereignty of both of those that are weak and those that are strong.

"Punitive damages, the dismemberment of empires, the establishment of selfish and exclusive economic leagues, we deem inexpedient and in the end worse than futile, no proper basis for a peace of any kind, least of all for an enduring peace. That must be based upon justice and fairness and the common rights of mankind.

Cannot Take the Kaiser's Word.

"We cannot take the word of the present rulers of Germany as a guarantee of anything that is to endure, unless explicitly supported by such conclusive evidence of the will and purpose of the German people themselves as the other peoples of the world would be justified in accepting.

"Without such guarantees, treaties of settlement, agreements for disarmament, covenants to set up arbitration in the place of force, territorial adjustments, reconstitutions of small nations, if made with the German Government, no man, no nation could now depend on. We must await some new evidence of the purposes of the great peoples of the Central Powers. God grant it may be given soon and in a way to restore the confidence of all peoples everywhere in the faith of nations and the possibility of a covenanted peace.

ROBERT LANSING,
"Secretary of State of the United States of America."

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—President Wilson's note rejecting the Pope's peace proposals, is regarded here as finally settling the question of dealing with present German rulers unconditionally or unconditionally at home. The President makes it clear that a lasting and durable peace can be negotiated only on a complete understanding with the German people and not alone on a complete guarantee of the existing Government.

The note indicates that the American Government does not intend post-bellum reprisals on the German people but, in the interests of world peace, that

GERARD DESCRIBES RECEPTIONS GIVEN AT BERLIN COURT

Ambassador Was Considerably Flabbergasted When der Pfortner von der Hoelle (the Porter of Hell) Was Assigned to Introduce Notables to Him, but Otherwise He Found Everything Very Charming and Interesting.

This is the twenty-third installment of "My Four Years in Germany," in which the American diplomat recounts his experiences at the Court of Berlin.

By JAMES W. GERARD,

American Ambassador to the German Imperial Court,
July 28, 1913, to February 4, 1917.

COPYRIGHT, 1917, BY THE PUBLIC LADDER COMPANY. COPYRIGHT, CANADA, 1917, BY THE PUBLIC LADDER COMPANY. INTERNATIONAL COPYRIGHT, 1917, BY THE PUBLIC LADDER COMPANY. ALL RIGHTS RESERVED. ANY INFORMATION WILL BE FURNISHED.

SOME days after my presentation to the Emperor, I was taken to Potsdam, which is situated about half an hour's train journey from Berlin, and from the station there driven to the new palace and presented to the Empress. The Empress was most charming and affable and presented a very distinguished appearance. Accompanied by Mrs. Gerard, and always either by night or by day, in the infernal dress suit, I was received by the Crown Prince and Princess and others of the royal princes and their wives. On these occasions we sat down and did not stand as when received by the Emperor and Empress, and simply made "polite conversation" for about 20 minutes, being received first by the ladies-in-waiting and aids. These princes were always in uniform of some kind.

At the reception for the Hof-fach people Mrs. Gerard stood in one room and I in another, and with each of us was a representative of the Emperor's household to introduce the people of the court, and an army officer to introduce the people of the army. The officer assigned to me had the extraordinary name of der Pfortner von der Hoelle, which means the "porter of hell." I have often wondered since by what prophetic instinct he was sent to introduce me to the two years and a half of world war which I experienced in Berlin. This unfortunate officer, a most charming gentleman, was killed early in the war.

The Elite Income Tax Dodgers.

The Berlin season lasts from about the 20th of January for about six weeks. It is short in duration because, if the Hof-fach people stay longer than six weeks in Berlin, they become liable to pay their local income tax in Berlin, where the rate is higher than in those parts of Germany where they have their court estates.

The first great court ceremonial is the "Schleppen-cour," so called from the long trains or Schleppen worn by the women. On this night we "presented" Mr. and Mrs. Robert K. Cassatt of Philadelphia, Mrs. Ernest Witte, Mrs. and Miss Lure and Mrs. Norman Whitehouse.

On the arrival at the palace with these and all the members of the embassy staff and their wives, we were shown up a long staircase, at the top of which a guard of honor, dressed in costume of the time of Frederick the Great, presented arms to all ambassadors and ruffled kettle-drums. Through long lines of cadets from the military schools, dressed as pages, in white, with short breeches and powdered wigs, we passed through several rooms where all the people to pass in review were gathered. Behind these, in a room about 60 feet by 50, on a throne facing the door were the Emperor and Empress, and on the broad steps of this throne were the princes and their wives, the court ladies-in-waiting and all the other members of the court.

Troubles of an Ambassador.

The wives of the ambassadors entered the room first, followed at intervals of about 20 feet by the ladies of the embassy and the ladies to be presented. As they entered the room and made a change of direction toward the throne, pages in white straightened out the ladies' trains with long sticks. Arrived opposite the throne and about 20 feet from it, each ambassador's wife made a low curtsy and then stood on the foot of the throne, to the left of the Emperor and Empress, and as each lady of the embassy not before presented, and each lady to be presented, stepped beside the throne and made a low curtsy, the ambassador had to call out the name of each one in a loud voice. When the last one had passed the ambassador followed her out of the room, walking sideways in order not to turn her back on the royalties—something of a feat when towing a train about 15 feet long!

When all the ambassadors had passed, it was the turn of the Ambassadors, who carried out substantially the same program, substituting low bows for curtsies.

The Ambassadors were followed by the Ministers' wives, these by the Ministers, and then by the dignitaries of the German court. All passed into the adjoining hall, and there a buffet supper was served. The whole affair began at about 8 o'clock and was over in an hour.

How German Court Balls Are Held.

At the court balls, which also began early in the evening, a different procedure was followed. There the guests were required to assemble before 8:20 in the ballroom. As in the Schleppen-cour, on one side of the room was the throne with seats for the Emperor and Empress, and to the right of this throne were the chairs for the Ambassadors' wives, who were seated in the order of their husbands' rank, with the ladies of their embassy, and any ladies they had brought to the ball standing behind them. After them came the Ministers' wives, sitting in similar fashion, then the Ambassador, standing with their staffs behind them on the raised steps, and any men that had asked invitations for, and the Ministers in similar order.

To the left of the throne stood the wives of the Dukes and dignitaries of Germany and then their husbands. When all were assembled, promptly at the time announced, the orchestra, which was dressed in medieval costume and sitting in a gallery, sounded trumpets and then the Emperor and Empress entered the room, the Emperor, of course, in uniform, and both of them followed by the ladies and gentlemen of the household, all in brilliant uniforms, and one or two officers of the court regiment, picked out for their great height and dressed and lower dignitaries are not placed at supper, but find places at tables to suit themselves. After supper all go back to the ballroom and there the young ladies and officers, led by the "vortanzers," execute a sort of lancers, in the final figure of which long lines are formed of dancers radiating from the throne and all the dancers make bows and curtsies to the Emperor and Empress, who are either standing or sitting, at this time, on the throne.

At about 11:30 the ball is over. As the guests pass out through the long hall they receive glasses of hot punch and a peculiar sort of local Berlin bun, in order to ward off the lurking dangers of the villainous winter climate.

MEDICAL BOARD HERE TRYING TO ENLIST MORE DOCTORS

Several Doctors Who Have Entered Army Service Have Been Transferred to Other Points.

The examining board of the United States Medical Officers' Reserve Corps, with headquarters at 3523 Pine street, is endeavoring to enlist additional physicians. A number of those who have entered this service here have been transferred to other points. The local board comprises the following physicians, all of whom have the rank of Captain: Dr. W. H. Luedke, president; Drs. Raymond, Kuhlmann, Leighton, Funkhouser, Hamel and Unterberg. Maj. M. G. Seelig, professor of surgery in the St. Louis University Medical School, and chief surgeon to the Jewish Hospital, has been ordered to Washington to help in organizing the army surgical work. Maj. O. H. Campbell and John C. Morfit have been ordered to the cantonment hospital at Waco, Tex. Dr. Campbell has charge of medical work there and Dr. Morfit of surgical work. Dr. Morfit is a former hospital commissioner.

Capt. R. S. Bryan of the corps, formerly of 3710 Olive street, has been ordered to Hawaii. Lieut. George W. Heuman, another local physician, has been assigned to a regiment of engineers at Camp Funston, Fort Riley, Kan. Capt. H. S. Crossen and Lieut. T. P. Brooks, both St. Louis physicians, are now with the Twelfth Engineers' Regiment, and have sent word of their safe arrival in England.

200,000 Volunteers Since April 1. WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—More than 200,000 war volunteers have enlisted in the regular army since April 1. This represents approximately 17,000 men in excess of the number needed on April 1 to build the regular service to its full authorized strength. Pennsylvania has now supplied 22,283 men on its quota of 15,330; Illinois 16,923 on its quota of 11,276; New York 21,570 on a quota of 18,226; California 7,656 on a quota of 4754; and Nevada, first State to complete its quota, 983 men on a quota of 162.

RAILWAYS WARN RUSSIA ITS ROADS ARE DISORGANIZED

Representatives Report at Moscow Conference They May Cease by November.

WORKERS ARE BLAMED

Speakers Say Consequences of Transportation Tieup Would Be Serious.

MOSCOW, Aug. 29.—At the third general sitting of the national conference, railway representatives, including M. Froloff of the Engineers' Alliance, reported the existing state of utter disorganization of transportation, which, unless improved, would cease completely by November. The representatives gave warning the consequences would be terrible, both at home and on the front, and the army might turn to the country and commit unexampled excesses.

The extreme demands of the railway workers, the speakers said, played an important part in this disorganization. They called on those engaged in the transport service to sacrifice personal interests for those of the country.

Gen. Alexieff, former Commander in Chief, in a long address recounted the history of the Russian military setbacks and their causes. He drew contrasts between the army of the old regime, poorly equipped, but strong in verile spirit, and the present army, well supplied with food and arms, but completely policed and enfeebled by ill-interpreted and ill-applied doctrines which have been put forward, notably in the famous order of the day No. 1. These doctrines, he declared, had split the army into two camps: officers and soldiers, which have become almost irreconcilable.

Dangerous Duality of Power. Speaking of the committee elected by the soldiers of the various units, Gen. Alexieff said they were useful to the army from an economic standpoint, but were fatal to discipline of the troops. None the less, he said, was the influence of Government commissaries whose appointment, he asserted, created an extremely dangerous duality of power.

The general maintained that after publication by the Government of the declaration of the rights of soldiers all respect toward leaders disappeared, the officers becoming veritable martyrs and having to pay dearly in the offensive of July 1 and the subsequent retreat. The general cited some remarkable illustrations of this. On one occasion, he said, when an attack was being launched, the force which advanced was made up of 28 officers, 20 noncommissioned officers and two soldiers. All the others looked on coldly while these heroes perished.

The general declared it would be impossible to carry the war to a victorious conclusion unless the strongest possible efforts were made by the provisional Government and by the troops themselves to reanimate and regenerate the army.

After Madame Catherine Breshkovskaya, the "grandmother of the revolution," had appealed to the Government to pass from words to actions and help the army conquer the enemy, Prince Peter Kropotkin, who was not on the list of speakers, was heard at the request of the whole conference. He called upon all Russians to prevent the fatal equality of a German victory and expiate the hope that Russia would not be proclaimed a federative republic. This sentiment, submitted to the conference for the first time, evoked a long continuous ovation in honor of Prince Kropotkin.

Other speakers, who declared against a separate peace, were loudly applauded.

M. Gruenberg, speaking as the representative of the Jews, said they loved their country, notwithstanding their unprecedented persecution under the old regime, and had contributed to the emancipation of the people and the defense against the enemy.

Support Is Pledged. Representatives of Ukraine and of Western, or White Russia, said the people were ready to make any sacrifices for the good of the country. The Board of Elections, Judge Hyman, the Tammany candidate, won second place. Mayor Mitchell, the fusion candidate, failed to get first place on the Republican ballot. William M. Bennett winning that position. Hearst has not indicated whether he would be a candidate.

Good News for Foot Sufferers If you have tired, swollen, aching, burning, every foot, painful, stinging corns or calluses, here is good news for you. Recently in the treatment of foot troubles by patients using Ice-Mint, these distinctive features were noticeable. Tired, aching, burning and swollen feet instantly became cool, easy and comfortable after the first application, while in the treatment of corns and calluses, it was noticed that after a few night's application, the corns or calluses had a tendency to loosen and in a short time could easily be lifted out without the use of any knife, and the surrounding skin in normal, healthy condition.

When you stop to consider that the aching, burning, swollen, and inflamed foot will keep the foot cool, comfortable, and easy to apply, it is thought that it is easy to understand why it is thought that it is a "miraculous" cure for foot troubles.

the victory over our enemies without and within.

M. Tcheldes declared the unified revolutionary democracy recognized that the vital interests of the country and the revolution demanded the application of the following measures:

1. In the domain of food supplies, the Government, pursuing a firm policy, should maintain a monopoly of cereals and a policy of fixed prices for agricultural products.
2. In the domain of commerce and industry, the defense of the country and the supplies of munitions demanded more radical measures for the regulation of transport and the increase of the productivity of industry.
3. The finances required the rigorous application of laws dealing with the income tax and war profits besides other reforms, such as the introduction of succession duties and of taxes on articles of luxury, corresponding to their increase in value with other fiscal measures. As regards loans, the Government should take strong measures to make all bear their full share.

Asks for Agrarian Reforms. Agrarian reforms should be introduced to prevent all usurpation of land, whether by individuals or groups of individuals or societies.

Fifth: Regarding the organization of the army, the respective rights and duties of the army commanders, commissions and army organizations should be defined.

Regarding the question of nationality, the Government should pass an act granting to all nationalities the right of deciding their lot, upon agreement, in the constituent assembly.

M. Tcheldes concluded with an appeal for support for the provisional Government which, he said, should be invested with full and complete powers.

Michael V. Rozancko, President of the Duma, declared Russia's misfortune was that the revolutionary power created by the Duma in concert with the Council of Workers' and Soldiers' Deputies did not march side by side with the national representation, but avoided it and did not desire collaboration; also that the power came immediately under the influence of social organizations and the Ministers themselves frequently in consequence, had to make national interests subject to class interests.

Prof. Paul Milukoff, leader of the constitutional Democrats, said that, unhappily, the two months' administration by the coalition Government was marked only by two great capitulations in the face of political exigencies—to the working class and to the claims of the extreme nationalists.

TONS OF ROCKS ARE HURLED BY SAN SALVADOR VOLCANO

Eruption Which Started on June 7 Still in Progress With Artery.

SAN SALVADOR, Republic of San Salvador, Aug. 29.—The San Salvador volcano, which burst into violent eruption on June 7 last, still continues to hurl into the air at intervals of from half a minute to a minute quantities of red-hot stones. These eruptions are accompanied by tremendous explosions, like the firing together of 100 pieces of artillery. Smaller stones glowing with heat are thrown 3000 feet in the air and larger ones 1800 feet.

The spectacle is awe inspiring. Millions of tons of burning stones have been thrown out of the crater, where they continue to glow. Nevertheless, it is possible to go within a few hundred yards of the old crater without danger.

WHEAT PRICE SESSIONS RESUMED

Strong Difference of Opinion as to Fair Figure for 1917 Crop.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—The Wheat-Price Fixing Committee resumed its sessions today in a further effort to agree on a price for the 1917 crop. Last night's meeting was adjourned after several votes were taken without disposing of the question. There had been a prior agreement that a three-fourths vote would be necessary to determine the price. Failure to reach a conclusion indicates a strong difference of opinion as to what constitutes a fair valuation on the crop.

The basic price fixed will be for No. 1 Northern wheat or its equivalent. Scales for the other grades will be worked out within the next few days by the food administration.

Hearst's Name to Lead Democrats

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The name of William R. Hearst will lead the Democratic candidates for Mayor on the municipal ballot at the coming primary election. The candidates names were drawn from a wheel by the Board of Elections. Judge Hyman, the Tammany candidate, won second place. Mayor Mitchell, the fusion candidate, failed to get first place on the Republican ballot. William M. Bennett winning that position. Hearst has not indicated whether he would be a candidate.

TRAINING CAMP PROGRAM FOR THE FIRST AND FIFTH REGIMENTS

Schedule for the Week Concludes Chiefly of Study of Fundamentals.

10,000 SOLDIERS PARADE

St. Louis Regiment Appears to Be Best Trained Unit at Nevada.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. NEVADA, Mo., Aug. 29.—A program for 16 weeks of intensive military training was issued to the company commanders of the First and Fifth Regiments after the guardsmen returned from the 10-mile hike and divisional review yesterday afternoon.

The schedule for the present week consists of 12 hours of instruction in the school of the squad, close and extended order, six hours of setting up exercises, six hours in the school of the soldier, two hours in sanitation and hygiene, two hours in the care of the feet, four hours in the care of uniforms and equipment, two hours in interior guard duty, one hour on the articles of war, two hours on military courtesy and discipline, one hour on obligations and rights of the soldier.

The machine gun organizations are to receive instructions in the use of the weapon, close and extended order formations in addition to machine gun formations, care of animals on the march, field fortifications, and methods of constructing gun emplacements, co-operation with infantry in combat, transportation and methods of carrying guns.

10,000 Guardsmen Parade. Ten thousand national guardsmen, the largest body of troops assembled in one column in Missouri since the Civil War, paraded through the streets of Nevada late yesterday afternoon. Cheering civilians lined the route.

The column was headed by Brigadier-General Harvey C. Clark, commanding, accompanied by his staff and the officers of the signal corps battalion as an escort. It was between six and eight miles in length as it approached the city and required more than an hour to pass.

In a reviewing stand on the courthouse square were Mrs. Clark, wife of the commander; Mayor A. E. Dulin and a score of Nevada women.

When Gen. Clark, at the head of the column, mounted on "Nevada," a horse given to him by the people of the city before he went to the Mexican border last year, entered the town near the union station, a great cheer went up and continued for several minutes. After a few battalions had passed, however, watchers seemed to be impressed with the seriousness of the thing they saw and the applause gradually died away.

The Order of March.

At the head of each regiment were the Colonel and his staff, followed by the regimental bands, each playing its marching song. Leading the band trotted a long-eared hound, yelping at every step, as the Second band played "You've Got to Quit Kickin' My Dog Around."

The troops marched in the following order: Second Infantry companies from Butler, Lamar, West Plains, Searsville, Joplin, Lebanon, Webb City, Springfield, Indian Creek, Aurora, the Nevada machine gun company.

The Fourth Infantry, Col. John D. McNeely commanding; companies from Tarkio, Caruthersville, Kirksville, Trenton, Hannibal, Columbia, Bethany, Carrollton, Chillicothe, Weston, Mount City, St. Joseph and Sedalia machine gun company.

Fifth Infantry, Col. Leroy K. Robbins commanding; companies from Lexington, St. Joseph, Sedalia, Doniphan, Willow Springs, Richmond, Dexter, Silkeston, Poplar Bluff, Kennett and Cartersville machine gun company.

First Infantry, Col. S. E. Kowe commanding.

The First, which has been in the Federal service for several months, was fully equipped, was followed by its wagon train of 20 heavy cargo wagons and several trucks, each of the wagons drawn by four mules. It had mules for its machine gun company. The men of the First seemed the best trained. They marched with a quicker step, their lines were straighter and every rifle was carried at an exact angle. The other units are not more than half equipped. They have uniforms, but a great many are short of hats and rifles.

The signal corps battalion from Kansas City, which is under orders to entrain for Mineola, L. I., to join the division of national guardmen under Major-General W. A. Mann for immediate service in France, did not participate in the parade. It was packing its equipment.

33 PER CENT TAX ON WAR PROFITS

Amendments to Replace Proposed Levy of 26 Per Cent.

WOULD YIELD BILLION

Increase Accepted to Meet Radical Movement for a Greater Taxation.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—To meet the radical movement for greater taxation of war profits the Senate Finance Committee today agreed to amendments carrying war profits taxes of more than 33 per cent in place of the present provisions for 26 per cent. The amendments would increase the war profits tax yield from $427,000,000 to $1,040,000,000 in addition to $600,000,000 in income taxes under the present law and yield a third of the bill's total tax.

The pre-war profits rate of the bill was retained by the committee, but it added a new maximum war profits tax rate of 60 per cent, on profits in excess of 300 per cent. The maximum in the bill was 50 per cent on profits over 250 per cent.

Another substantial change was made in provisions for exemptions. A minimum of 6 per cent, and a maximum of 10 per cent, of income on capital actually invested was approved. These provisions would exempt corporations suffering abnormal depression during the pre-war period. Corporations making less than 4 per cent would be entitled to at least that exemption, and if more than 10 per cent they would receive not over 10 per cent deduction.

By these changes the committee estimated that the proposed levy would take $1,336,000,000 of the $3,000,000,000 or $4,000,000,000 war profits estimated to be earned this year.

Senators La Follette and Gurnea, opponents of more radical war profits taxation, did not attend today's committee meeting. Chairman Simmons and others of the majority hope that a new levy—almost doubling the command sufficient support to cause rejection of the more drastic proposals.

Debate on the publishers' taxes was begun by Senator Shields, who was supported by Senators McKellar, Tennessee, who supported the publishers' substitute and argued that magazines and other periodicals, not newspapers, cause the deficit in carrying second class mail.

"I am satisfied," he said, "that the daily papers are paying practically all if not the full amount for the service they receive. Rates on magazines and other publications which cause the losses should be increased."

Senator Shields said newspapers did not require the same service of the Postoffice Department that magazines required and that they required more of it at their own expense.

"The newspapers really are the people's papers," the Tennessee Senator continued. "They are the newspapers which supply information to 90 per cent of the people of the United States and any increase in the burden of transportation is an increased burden on the people."

Magazines are not read by more than 12 per cent of the people, he said, and those people are more able to pay an increased cost than those who read newspapers. Hence, he characterized as "defensible" and "discriminatory" the proposed 6 per cent tax on publishers' newspapers.

"It is the most unjust and inequitable tax in this whole bill and I think there are several that ought to be left out," he added, and declared that while the present second class postal rates were a subsidy and should be readjusted, it should not be withdrawn all at the same time. He urged the adoption of the McKellar amendment and opposed all others.

DEALERS ORDERED TO INVENTORY FOOD STOCKS IN STORES

Wholesalers and Retailers With Goods Valued at $1000
Must Fill Out Blanks.

St. Louis dealers in food supplies and products of all kinds have received blanks upon which they must make reports of stocks on hand Aug. 31 for the general food survey undertaken by the Federal Department of Agriculture as a war measure. These reports will be tabulated for the use of Food Administrator Hoover in regulating prices.

The reports must be sworn to before a notary public and must be filed by Sept. 10, unless an extension of time is granted. All kinds of food products are covered in detail, 123 separate items being listed. All dealers, wholesale and retail, carrying a stock of as much as $1000 worth of any of these items, must make a report. The penalty for failure to report is $1000.

In addition to the report for Aug. 31, this year, a report must be made of the stocks on hand at the same time last year. The report must be made out in duplicate, one copy to be forwarded to the Department of Agriculture and the other to be retained on file by the dealer for use later in the fall, when, according to the instructions, another survey is to be made.

The main classifications listed in the blank are: Grains and seeds, grain food products, meat, meat products and poultry, fish, dairy and related products, vegetable fats, sugars, starch, canned goods, preserves, dried fruits, nuts, fruit, vegetables, feeds.

Under each of these heads is listed a large number of items. The report must include goods on hand and in transit. All stocks in stores must be listed in separate places.

Stocks of distilled and malt liquors must be reported, and also such items as syrups, candies and confections. The nature of the inventory making the report, whether grocery, commission merchant, druggist or whatever special line, must be set forth. The report also must state whether the concern is a corporation, partnership or individual, and a summary up of average sales for the past year and values of stock at wholesale prices must be given.

Missourians Win Praise at Fort Sheridan Camp

Most of Them Men of Mature Years Whose Aptness to Learn Is Commended by Officers—"Oh, Johnny," Is Marching Song.

FORT SHERIDAN, Ill., Aug. 29.—"Oh, Johnny, Oh, Johnny, how you can love!" is the marching song which has been adopted by the Missourians and Kansans at Fort Sheridan. To the swaying time of this exceedingly unmartial ballad the men from the two states strode out of the post today on a three-mile cross country hike and when they returned to the Fort, dusty but not tired, there came floating over the tree tops the final words, "Oh, Johnny, Oh, Johnny, Oh!"

Opinion is divided as to which St. Louis man is responsible for the adoption of the song, but suspicion points to John E. Massengale, at home a conformed grand opera fan, here just one of the boys.

Massengale started the song as the fifth company marched out along the high road leading from the fort, and such succeeding company caught up the strain and sent it echoing back to the next.

Swedish Exercises Hard on Obese. Swedish exercises by a West Point instructor almost proved the undoing of some of the more obese students from St. Louis.

The Swedish exercises have the peculiar faculty of utilizing numerous muscles which many of the men never before knew they had. They left the fat men of the regiment with a well-defined grudge against the land of Gustavus Adolphus.

Part of the business of learning to become an officer is learning how to dig trenches. Inasmuch as this pastime for the most part has been monopolized for many years by the hardy races of Southern Europe, the students at the camp looked grimly at the little shovels and then at the unbroken terrain of hard blue limestone clay which flanks the old trench systems at the south side of the fort.

"Can't we use the old trenches?" asked one Winifred W. Hawkins, an instructor at the University of Kansas.

"Not yet," replied the young Lieutenant, "you'll dig your own."

Hurdles Attract "Bob" Simpson. Robert Simpson of Bosworth, Mo., world's champion hurdler, cast long glances in the direction of the hurdles which will be used later. These hurdles are about two and a half feet high, and the stunt is to hurdle them on the run for a distance of about an eighth of a mile and then spear dummies hanging on the galloway-like structure, erected for bayonet practice.

All the men have received guns, ammunition belts and haversacks and those who have never seen service are having their troubles with each. Target practice will begin soon.

Expressions of regret were heard on all sides when it was learned that Henry R. Tucker, one of the most popular men at the camp and a former teacher in a St. Louis high school, had to resign from the camp because of the serious illness of his wife.

"We've got a fine bunch of men from Missouri and Kansas," said one of the army instructors yesterday. "There are very few kids and every man is in dead earnest. I never saw anybody pick up so quickly as some of these middle aged men."

"The Missourians who were designated as alternates need not give up hope altogether of being called, as telegrams are arriving daily from principals acknowledging their inability to attend. Thus far these alternates have been called from St. Louis: Favre Alston, 300 Leather Trades Building; William Hyde Payne, Webster Groves; William Cope Life, 4161 North Grand avenue; Harry Hayden Alley and John W. Osmer.

One of the principals selected from St. Louis who wired he could not come is Detective Dennis Malloy. Plans for universal training, and a statement that this country would never have been drawn into the war if we had 10,000,000 trained men, were made by Col. James A. Ryan, commander of the camp, in an address to the students.

Col. Ryan said it was his opinion that the only insurance against wars is the preparation of the nation for war. Every youth of 17 or over should be trained, he said.

It became known today that the Rev. Myron E. Adams, director of the camp morale, obtained a signed pledge from every man who entered the camp to work for universal military training.

Rifles, the last part of the equipment issued to the new students, were given out today, and instruction in the manual of arms started.

EARL GREY, ENGLISH STATESMAN, IS DEAD

Former Governor-General of Canada Succumbs at the Age of 66.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—Earl Grey, former Governor-General of Canada, died at 6 o'clock this morning at Howick House, Northumberland, after a long illness.

The funeral will be held at Howick on Saturday, when a memorial service will be held in London. Earl Grey was in his sixty-sixth year.

Lord Strathcona described Earl Grey as "a statesman and philanthropist in the best sense." His active career comprised not only the administration of the Government of Rhodesia and representation of the British Government as Governor-General of Canada, but industrial and financial operations in the development of South Africa. One of the most noted movements to which he gave his support and in which he was a leading spirit was the Public House Trust Co. of England, an enterprise designed to supplant the ordinary saloons for the sale of intoxicating liquor by the establishment of well-conducted public houses and to discourage the use of intoxicants by substitution of tea and coffee.

Earl Grey was an intimate friend of the late Joseph H. Choate, American Ambassador to Great Britain, and visited the United States called upon Presidents Roosevelt and Taft at Washington, and declared that he was a lover of America. This sentiment he gave as his reason for restoring to the United States a picture of Benjamin Franklin, which had been in the possession of his family since Earl Grey's great-grandfather, Major-General Charles Grey, was quartered in Franklin's house in Philadelphia as an officer of Gen. Howe's staff during the Revolutionary War. The restoration of the picture was announced by Earl Grey at a banquet tendered to him in New York while he was Governor-General of Canada. In making the announcement he said he believed there were higher laws than the laws of possession.

Born Nov. 28, 1851, Alfred Henry George, the fourth Earl Grey, was educated at Trinity College, Cambridge. He married in 1877 Alice Holford of Westons, England. Two daughters, Lady Evelyn Grey and Lady Sybil Grey, were the result of the union.

By profession Earl Grey was a lawyer. He was a member of Parliament from Northumberland for six years, beginning in 1880. On the death of his uncle, Gen. Sir Charles Grey, in 1894, he succeeded to the title and took his seat in the House of Lords. For two generations previously the Earls Grey had been prominent in the political affairs of the British Empire. His grandfather had been Prime Minister of England and his uncle private secretary to a Queen.

Succeeding his brother-in-law Lord Minto, Earl Grey was appointed Governor-General of Canada in 1904 and occupied that post for six years. His administration was described as a quiet but uniform success. He was a strong advocate of imperial federation, and urged Canadians to share the burden of England's defense.

Although born an aristocrat, Earl Grey was very democratic in his sympathies. This found chief expression in his almost lifelong activity as a social reformer. In his efforts to reform the saloons of England and in the establishment of a co-operative partnership system on his estates in Northumberland. One of his most profound convictions was that a union of the English-speaking people would be of world-wide benefit.

Lean and bald, with shoulders a trifle rounded, Earl Grey was of distinguished appearance and interesting personality. By his democratic manner he made thousands of friends during his administration in Canada. His home was at Howick Hall, Northumberland, England.

PEACE MEETING IS FORBIDDEN

Minnesota Governor Says Gathering
World Awar Nation's Enemies.
ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 29.—Gov. J. A. A. Burnquist has issued a proclamation prohibiting the People's Council of America for Democracy and Peace from holding its proposed meeting in Minneapolis or elsewhere in Minnesota.

The Governor's action followed a report from Sheriff Otto Langum, of Hennepin County, in which the Sheriff stated that after making a thorough investigation he believed the proposed meeting would result in bloodshed and rioting. The Governor added his conviction that the meeting could only aid and abet enemies of the United States.

ARRESTED AT MUNITION PLANT

Discharged Negro Had Threatened to Return and Make Trouble.
Armed guards on duty at the plant of the Scullie Steel Co., 6700 Manchester avenue, where war munitions are being manufactured, last night arrested Walter Tyndall, a negro, of 437 West Belle place, when he approached the plant with a loaded revolver in his possession.

Tyndall had been discharged, and when ejected after creating a disturbance had threatened to return and make trouble.

TOO WEAK TO FIGHT

The "Come-back" man was really never down and out. His weakened condition because of overwork, lack of exercise, improper eating and living, demands stimulation to satisfy the cry for a health-giving appetite and the refreshing sleep essential to strength.

THE NATIONAL REMEDY OF HOLLAND, pill de the work. They are wonderful! Three of these capsules each day will put a man on his feet before he knows it. It's poisoning the kidneys, gravel or other ailments that defeat the over-drawn American. Don't wait until you are actually down and out, but get the "Come-back" man's remedy today. Your druggist will gladly refund your money if they do not help you. They are the pure, original, imported "Come-back" capsules. ADVERTISING.

The woman who rents rooms to help make the income most expenses cannot afford to waste money in her advertising. Post-Dispatch Wants assure the best result and can be relied upon to rent the rooms with least delay.

18,164 TOTAL OF ST. LOUIS DRAFT AND ENLISTED MEN

Contribution to Fighting Forces Which Will Be Credited to the City.

NOT ALL RESIDENTS

Number in Various Branches Not Included; Figures Will Increase.

A total of 18,164 men, contributed to the fighting forces of the United States, will be credited to St. Louis, according to the showing of figures for local enlistments in different branches of the service, to which the city's quota in the selective draft is added.

This total of 18,164 includes some enlistments of men from towns outside St. Louis in the regular army, the navy and the Marine Corps, and in local regiments of the national guard. Figures are not available to show how large a part of the St. Louis enlistments in the army and navy were actual St. Louisans. The Marine Corps, with 2176 enlistments here, records 1198 of them as being residents of the city.

Table of Contributions.

The figures, with enlistments in the different branches from April 1 to the present, and including the draft quota, most of which is to be placed in service within the next few weeks, are as follows:

Regular army.....4744
Navy.....2297
Marine Corps.....2176
Draft quota.....4377
First Regiment, N. G. M.....1960
Fifth Regiment, N. G. M.....1594
First Artillery Regiment.....706
Troop B.....103
Officers Commissioned, Port Riley Training Camp.....203

18,164

Hospital Unit Not Included.

These figures do not include the 234 members of Base Hospital Unit 21, which went to France in May, or the 80 recent enlistments in that unit. It does not include the several hundred St. Louisans who have gone to France as members of the Twelfth Engineers' Regiment, or the physicians and dentists who have entered the examining service and the Medical and Dental Reserve Corps. The young men who have joined the coast patrol as members of the "mosquito fleet" are also not included.

There will be a continual increase in the figures. More than 200 St. Louisans are now candidates for commission in training camps, and recruiting for the army and navy is still in progress.

BRITISH CROPS DAMAGED BY HEAVY RAINS AND WINDS

Grain Beaten Down So It Has to Be Harvested by Hand—Fruit Blown From Trees.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—The London morning papers feature as a matter of serious national importance the disastrous effect of the August weather on British crops. The month began with tremendous rains, which beat down the cereal crops to an extent compelling reaping to be done with the cythe and sickle instead of by machine. The unfavorable harvesting weather now has culminated in a gale of a velocity at times of a hundred miles an hour. The damage caused by the storms extends virtually through the whole country. Quite as great if less serious is the damage caused to fruit by the gale. Tons of plums, apples and pears have been torn from the trees. In view, however, of the immense yield this year, the loss of fruit will be less severely felt than that of grain.

The Times in an editorial says that the results of the disastrous weather of this, the wettest August in 25 years, discount seriously the more optimistic mood about food supplies which had been gaining ground.

SAYS RUSSIAN WAR MINISTER LET ARMY SUPPLIES DWindle

Assistant at Treason Trial Testifies Former Official Gave No Thought to the War.

PETROGRAD, Aug. 29.—Gen. Soukhomlinoff, former Minister of War, scarcely gave any thought to the conduct of the war. Gen. A. P. Vernander, former Assistant Minister of War, declared yesterday at the trial of Gen. Soukhomlinoff for high treason.

The War Minister, Gen. Vernander said, paid no heed to the equipment of the army and gave no contracts to workshops and factories which manufactured munitions. As a result, he testified, the munition production progressed haltingly, and after 130 days of war the Russian army was without shells.

Gen. Vernander succeeded Gen. Soukhomlinoff temporarily as Minister of War.

MAN SUES PHYSICIAN FOR $25,000 FOR LOSS OF LEG

Jacques Villard Alleges Dr. Floyd Stewart Dropped Tube on Toe, Causing Infection to Develop. Jacques Villard yesterday filed suit for $25,000 damages, on account of the loss of his left leg, against Dr. Floyd Stewart of 5527 Cates avenue. The petition says that Villard was taking treatment for rheumatism from Dr. Stewart, who was using the electric massage process, and that on Oct. 4, last, the physician accidentally dropped a glass tube attached to the electric machine; that it fell on Villard's big toe of the left foot, causing an infection to develop which necessitated the amputation of the leg three inches below the knee.

Dr. Stewart could not be reached for a statement.

Garland's A DOLLAR SALE

IT'S been a long time since we had one of these sales—about a year ago, we believe. And just about this time every year we find it necessary. With tables all cluttered up with odds and ends, broken lines, short lots of Summer garments, and new Fall goods rushing in by every express—what would you do?

Just what we're going to do tomorrow, we imagine—give them away or come as near to giving them away as dignity and modesty will permit—give them a price that will carry them out about as fast as if we would say, "Here they are, come take as many as you want."

Offering Values Ranging Up to $7.98 for

MISS MATTIE COOKE IS ENGAGED TO WED

St. Louis Girl to Be Married to Dr. George Steine of Burlington, Io.

MISS GRACE GILDEHAUS of 2625 Russell avenue entertained this afternoon with a bridge party, at which the engagement of her cousin, Miss Mattie Cooke, to Dr. George Steine of Burlington, Io., was announced. Miss Cooke is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Cooke of 3033 Eads avenue. She was graduated from Loretta Academy in 1914 and has been a maid of honor on two occasions at the Velled Prophet's ball. Dr. Steine is the son of Dr. H. F. Steine of Burlington and was graduated at the St. Louis University last June. He is a member of the Medical Reserve Corps. No definite plans for the wedding have been made.

Social Items

The wedding of Miss Rebecca Alice Lyceet to Caleb Cresson Wister Jr. of Philadelphia will take place at noon Sept. 15 in the Protestant Episcopal Church at Bryn Mawr, Pa. The church is a memorial of the Lyceet family and every wedding in the family in the last 100 years has been solemnized there.

After the ceremony there will be a wedding breakfast attended by the immediate family and a few intimate friends at the home of Samuel Moore Curwen, an uncle of the bride-elect, who resides in Haverford, a suburb near Bryn Mawr.

Miss Lyceet is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lyceet of 440 South Kirkwood road, St. Louis County. She has spent much time in Philadelphia and attended Miss Lewis' School there. Mr. Wister is a nephew of Owen Wister, the novelist. After a honeymoon trip, Mr. Wister and his bride will reside in Philadelphia.

Officers of the army and navy stationed in St. Louis, and practically the entire roster of officers at Jefferson Barracks have engaged boxes for the national amateur athletic meet at the Washington University Friday, Saturday and Monday. The proceeds will be donated to the St. Louis chapter of the American Red Cross, and this, with the fact that the meet is to be held in compliance with a request of President Wilson, has made the event one of importance. Among those who have taken boxes are Mrs. Charles Cummings Collier, Mrs. J. H. Bohmer, Mrs. Nat S. Brown and Mrs. Frank V. Hammar.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Lackland Taylor of 4507 Maryland avenue with their children are guests at Ephriam, Wis. Mrs. Taylor's sister, Mrs. Clarkson Carpenter, also is spending some time there. Mrs. Ellsworth P. Smith of 4502 Maryland avenue, is among the St. Louis colony at Point-aux-Barques, Mich., where she has a cottage.

Mrs. Montague Lyon, with her children, Mildred and Randolph, have returned from a tour of the West. Mrs. William P. Durkan of 376 Walton avenue, and her two children, who spent the month of August in the Ozarks at Bartlett Springs, returned to St. Louis Friday. The Entertainment Committee of the Liederkreis Club has sent out cards announcing that the minstrel show which was scheduled for next Saturday, Sept. 1, has been replaced with a dinner dance.

Dr. and Mrs. John W. Macdonald of Hampton Park, Clayton road, with their two sons, are spending some time at Atlantic City and New York. Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Shap-leigh of 4471 West Pine boulevard will join the St. Louis colony at Hot Springs, Va.

Mrs. Georgia Lee-Cunningham has returned to the city after a six weeks visit to New York and Ocean Grove, N. J. She is staying at the Buckingham Annex.

Mrs. P. J. Boland and daughter, Miss Martha, of Limit avenue, University City, have returned after a two months trip to Minnesota resorts. The Ladies Auxiliary of Co. M, Fifth Regiment, will hold the monthly meeting in the Assembly Room at Vandervoort's tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. Before leaving for your summer vacation, order the POST-DISPATCH sent to your summer home. It will be mailed you regularly if you give your order to your carrier, or notify us by mail, or you can phone if more convenient—Olive or Central 6000, POST-DISPATCH Circulation Department.

No St. Louis Business Man or Woman Can Afford to Go Without a Vacation

It's false economy to begin saving at the cost of health.

When it comes to a vacation, the best is none too good—

—and the best doesn't mean the most expensive,

—Colorado, for example.

Go where you can get the most diversion and nerve rest,

—ask any physician if that advice isn't sound,

—and Colorado admittedly offers far more diversion than any other vacation land in America,

—plus the most wonderful scenery and the widest variety of sports in the world,

—plus the far-famed, invigorating, nerve-resting Colorado air.

Try Colorado this summer and go via the

CAPT. COOK TO BE MARSHAL OF DRAFTED MEN'S PARADE

More Than 4000 Expected to March Saturday—Acting Gov. Crossley to Speak.

Capt. G. R. Cook, stationed at Jefferson Barracks, will be grand marshal of the parade of St. Louis men drafted for the new national army next Saturday. He will be assisted by 28 Sergeants.

The Americanization Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, which is arranging details of the parade, today sent out a personal invitation to the drafted men to participate in the parade, and it is expected that more than 4000 men will participate. Other organizations to participate are: The United Spanish War Veterans, Daughters of the American Revolution, Benjamin Franklin Club, Master Painters and Decorators' Association and the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick.

BELGIAN RELIEF SHIP IS SUNK

Reported Sunk Down Near Spain.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—The Norwegian steamer Kongali, from Saint Nazaire, France, for the United States, has been sunk off the Spanish coast, according to a telegram received in Christiania from Santander and forwarded by the Morning Post correspondent.

The maritime register reports the Norwegian steamer Kongali as a Belgian relief ship. She measures 3663 tons net and is reported last as arriving at Amsterdam on June 6.

BOARD REFUSES TO EXEMPT MEN MARRIED IN JULY

More Lenient With Others Who Present Claims of Having Dependents.

3475 NAMES CERTIFIED

The District Appeals Board in the Boatmen's Bank Building today passed on 20 claims for exemption. Great leniency was shown to men with dependent families but a disposition was shown to refuse discharge to registrants who have been married since the selective conscription law went into effect. Two men who were married in July were denied exemption today and two yesterday.

The board received word from Adjutant-General McCord at Jefferson City to see that 5 per cent of each word's quota be certified to him by Sept. 1. Several boards have been slow in making returns to the District Board and two have made no returns at all.

Up to 3 p. m. today 3475 registrants ready to serve in the new national army had been certified to the District Appeals Board in the Boatmen's Bank Building. The number of exemptions had reached 2289 and those who had failed to appear 507. Figures from the three districts in St. Louis county show that the number of exemptions granted is almost double the number of those certified for service. The figures to date are: ready to serve, 283; exemptions granted, 417, and failed to appear for examination, 62.

St. Louis wards certified men as follows to-day: Seventeenth, 18; Twenty-fifth, 8; Eighth, 6, and Twenty-eighth, 25.

Among the men certified from the Twenty-eighth Ward was A. Wessel Shapleigh, 3 Portland place. Shapleigh is a son of A. L. Shapleigh of the Shapleigh Hardware Co. He was married last April.

The Board allowed the following claims:

Elmer Cunningham, 1321 Grattan, dependents.

Leroy Rush, 4294 G. Ashland, dependents.

Wm. Schuettler, 4159 Ashland, dependents.

John G. Weaver, 4218 Maffitt, dependents.

Ivy E. Fitzwater, 2124 Bellegrade, pastor with dependents.

Wm. C. H. Hackman, 637 Atlanta, Webster Groves, dependents.

W. V. McMahon, 4138A West Belle, dependents.

Eugene W. Cowan, 4231 Washington, fertilized salesman; occupation claim allowed.

Edward Vorholt, 1268 Delaware, allowed to leave county for Fulton Iron Works until Nov. 1.

The following claims were denied:

Thomas H. Beets, 4126 Delmar, grocer; industrial claim.

Edward M. Harrington, 2138A Labadie; physical claim.

James A. Durney, 4163 Lexington; dependent wife.

Thomas W. Gill, 1912 Bellegrade; dependents.

L. J. Paulsen, 4316A Cook; dependent relatives.

Sylvan Frolichstein, 4261 McPherson; physical claim.

M. W. Ryan, 578 North Spring; physical claim.

Stepan Domljan, 2800 Chouteau; physical claim.

E. V. Shattuck, 4166 Labadie; dependent wife; married July 5 last.

J. C. Rosenthal, 2307 North Tenth; watch repairer; occupational claim.

Edgar H. Vreeland, 3955 North Market; married July 3 last.

RAH RAH! HERE'S THE COLLEGE WIDOW AGAIN

Ade's Heroine Comes Back in Musical Comedy, "Leave It to Jane."

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—It soon may happen that no successful play of the receding years will be elusive enough to escape being appropriated by the songsmiths of musical comedy. "Overnight" having been transmogrified into "Very Good Eddie," and Hoyt's "Bill White Flag" having gone through the hopper and come out as "Go to It," it became the fate of George Ade's once popular "The College Widow" to be transmuted last night into "Leave It to Jane."

The fate of the Ade piece which lampooned the way of college youth was not an unhappy one. The amusing farce had fallen into good hands. Guy Bolton retained enough of the story to serve as a framework, P. G. Wodehouse studded it with 15 lyrics, all but two or three of which were quite charming, and Jerome Kern set them to the delicate, tinkling and ingratiating airs, the mystery of which has made him the most popular of the younger composers. Thus the triumvirate responsible for "Oh, Boy!," the best musical comedy of recent years, was to the fore again.

It was noticeable that the fun of "The College Widow" did not seem as keen as it once did. After Ade's success, the ways of the college boy were overdone in the theater. But while the songs were being heard and the dances which accompanied them were being watched, the audience at the Longacre Theater gave every evidence of satisfaction. Even if the humor was not so fresh as it might have been, the piece was commendably free from the banalities of ordinary musical comedy.

The characterizations of the old piece were followed closely, from "Silent" Murphy, the center rush whose shoes were too tight, through the list including "Bud" Hicks, the verdant freshman, to Flora Wiggins, the "prominent" college waitress. Not one of the undergraduates or faculty of Atwater College failed to be resuscitated.

The production again suggested, like "Oh, Boy!" the delicate texture which once distinguished the George Edwards musical comedies. The singing was, so to speak, with the soft pedal on, except in the case of Georgia O'Ramey's "Dancing Cleopatra" number, which was comic enough to justify its boisterousness.

Between Edith Hollar as the college belle, and Ann Orr as the athletic coed, it was hard to choose. Vocally neither shone brilliantly. The demureness of the first was nicely offset by the effervescence of the second, whether their singing and dancing partners were Oscar Shaw, Robert G. Pitkin or Olin Howland.

One searches the cast in vain for others who shared the lyrics, although the chorus was usually kept busy. There were a few high spots during the evening, and they came when the trio "Leave It to Jane," the duet, "The Crickets Are Calling," "When the Orchestra's Playing Your Favorite Waltz," and "Something to Say" were sung. But attractive as Mr. Kern's music is, there was a sameness to much of it, and possibly none of it reached the high level of his preceding piece.

"Leave It to Jane," is preferable to most musical comedies. It is another evidence that better taste is finding its way into this popular branch of entertainment.

AMERICAN KNACK OF 'GETTING THERE' IMPRESSES THE FRENCH

Yankee Officer Refused to Travel 150 Miles to Get 50 Miles, So He Built a New Road.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Efficient and result-getting methods employed by American army officers in charge of the expeditionary forces now in France and the way the officers have of getting what they want regardless of tradition and red tape, have excited the highest admiration of the French people, according to William T. Hardy of New York, who has arrived here from a three months' trip abroad.

Hardy said that recently an army officer wanted to use a long distance telephone line. He was told the line was busy and that his turn would come in eight hours. The officer went "higher up" and got his service in 10 minutes. But the next day the American signal corps was stringing a special wire between the two points.

To reach one of the American camps located 50 miles from a supply base, Hardy said it was necessary to travel 150 miles by rail. After the first supply train had traversed that route, a force of American engineers began to lay out a new and direct route and right behind them came graders and track layers. The engineer in charge met with protests from officials of villages through which they passed, who objected to cutting a right of way through certain groves and streets. The American officer politely expressed regret. The road was built.

OPPORTUNITY FOR ENLISTED MEN TO BECOME OFFICERS

All Needed After Second Series of Training Camps to Be From Guard, New Army or Regulars.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Enlisted men of the national army, national guard and regular army will be given every opportunity to fit themselves for commissions, in line with the policy to take no more officers, or officer candidates from civil life after the second series of officers' training camps has been completed. Thereafter all additional officers needed will be found in the army.

It has virtually been decided to establish an officers' school at each of the divisional training camps. The divisional officers camps will make the third series of such camps arranged to provide men to complement the forces being raised. No line commissions will be granted to men from civil life after they are started except that a few men who were denied admission to the other camps through loss of their orders in the mail or some other mischance may be given an opportunity in the third series.

FRECKLE-FACE

Sun and Wind Bring Out Ugly Spots How to Remove Easily.

Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-face, to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable dealer that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling.

Simply get an ounce of othine—double strength—from any druggist and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case. Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine, as this is the prescription sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.—ADV.

LIVE STOCK EXCHANGE WINS
SUIT BROUGHT BY HENRY

Hilbert E. Henry, former commission man of National City, who filed quo warranto proceedings in the Circuit Court at Belleville against the St. Louis Live Stock Exchange, alleging it was a combination in restraint of trade, lost his suit yesterday when Judge Crow found the defendant not guilty and dismissed the proceeding.

Henry, formerly a member of the Exchange, was expelled for alleged misconduct. He then set up an independent business but found himself cut off when the big packing plants refused to buy stock that was not checked into the yards by official "dockers." These men check all stock shipped in and are employed by the Exchange. Because of this they refuse to represent independent firms.

The case has been in the courts for several years and evidence covering several hundred typewritten pages was taken.

BUILDINGS FOR MILITIA
ARE NOT WINTERPROOF

Missouri Men Will Be Sent to France This Fall, Ft. Sill Officers Deduce.

FORT SILL, Ok., Aug. 29.—The national guard from Missouri and Kansas will be on their way to France before winter sets in, in the opinion of army officers stationed at Fort Sill, where the national guard will be encamped. This is not based on information from the War Department. It is a sort of general understanding that seems to be based largely on the general attitude taken by the War Department toward the construction of the camp. Camp Doniphan is being built for a summer camp. The camp could be arranged so that troops could spend the winter here, but it is estimated that it would require from 50 to 60 days and every building at the camp would have to be remodeled.

The only buildings that are going up are offices, mess halls, kitchens and lavatories. These are being built so finally that they will be only as shelters. The buildings are of pine boards placed on end with 1/2-inch cracks between. The sides and ends are open from a height of about 4 feet to the roof. The contract calls for wire screening around the open spaces. The roofs are covered with tar paper. Even the offices for divisional headquarters and brigade headquarters are built the same way. There are no windows.

It would be impossible to expect troops to spend the winter in such a place, the officers say, unless changes are made. If the War Department expected the troops to winter here, the army officers argue, they would change the construction contract so the men could continue with their work. The weather consideration was discussed with interest when the thermometer dropped yesterday from 101 to 57 degrees and overcoats were brought out. Snow will fall for three minutes at Snyder, 34 miles west of Lawton, Ok., according to the weather bureau.

The work of organizing the division of the Missouri and Kansas national guard has almost been completed. Most of the divisional officers have arrived and have been assigned by Major-General William M. Wright, who has been here only a few days. Lieutenant-Colonel McCleave is Chief of Staff. The General Staff consists of Maj. W. J. Gallagher, who will be in charge of operations and training; Maj. James M. Hobson, Divisional Adjutant; Maj. W. J. Scott, Divisional Quartermaster; Maj. John F. Clapham, Inspector; Maj. Geo. P. Whitsett, Judge-Advocate; Lieutenant-Colonel W. T. Davidson, surgeon; Lieutenant-Colonel Sherwood A. Cheney, divisional engineer; Maj. Channing E. Delaplaine, Ordnance Officer.

MANY INDIANS IN DAKOTAS
ENLIST FOR ARMY SERVICE

Sioux Chieftain, Too Old to Fight, Is Aiding in the Red Cross Work.

BISMARCK, N. D., Aug. 29.—Indians from the reservations in North and South Dakota are doing "their bit" in the war by enlisting in the army and, according to army authorities, rejections among them have been comparatively few. Flat feet, a common cause for rejection among whites, is practically unknown among the Indians, according to the examining officers.

Chief John Grass, said to be the mightiest of living Sioux Chieftains, although too old to be admitted in the fighting forces, is also acting his part, as he has been appointed vice president of Sioux County's Red Cross chapter.

Several Sioux have enlisted. Among them are Sid McLaughlin, grandson of Maj. James McLaughlin, grown gray in the Indian service; Bear Shot, a son of Old Bear Ghost, a famous warrior of the days of Custer and Blue Earth. From Berthold reservation come Joe Young Hawk, Winans and Rogers, all three Arrikaras.

RED CROSS TO AID SERVANTS

Americans Depart Saturday to Direct $200,000 Relief Work.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Relief for Serbia's population in its fight against privation and disease is being sent by the American Red Cross, which has appropriated $200,000 and named a commission to go to that country to administer the fund and direct the work. The commission, which will leave Saturday for Saloniki, its headquarters, is composed of Cordenio A. Severance of St. Paul, commissioner, and the following as deputy commissioners: Dr. S. Burroughs, formerly of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Dr. F. T. Lloyd and Dr. E. A. Crockett of Boston and F. T. Jager, and E. D. Haskell of Minneapolis. Two other members, W. A. W. Stewart of New York and L. D. Wishard of Pasadena, Cal., are at Saloniki. Dr. Edward Ryan, Red Cross representative at Saloniki, and Miss Emily Simmons of New York, a nurse, will co-operate.

How to Stop Loss of Hair and Start New Growth

Easy Way to Make Hair Grow Thick and Lustrous on Thin Spots

Beautiful Hair and Lots of It—If You Use Parisian Sage

If your hair is thinning out, prematurely gray, brittle, lifeless, full of dandruff and your head itches like mad it's a pretty sure sign the dangerous dandruff germ is busy on your scalp and quick action must be taken to save what hair you have and start a new growth. Don't wait until the hair root is dead, for then nothing can help you, but get from your drugist about four ounces of Parisian sage and apply as directed—it don't cost much and there is nothing you could use that's any better. It was Dr. Sangerbund, the famous Paris specialist, who discovered that dandruff and falling hair are caused by a microbe—then came the discovery of the value of the genuine Parisian sage (liquid form) to destroy this germ and prevent further loss of hair and the formation of dandruff. You will surely be delighted with the first application, for your hair will be bright-looking, all itching ceases and your scalp feels cool and comfortable. A few massages with Parisian sage are all that are usually needed to destroy the germs that cause dandruff to form, and very soon you should be able to see the new hairs coming in. Parisian sage is a favorite dressing with discriminating women because it is delicately perfumed, does not stain or streak the hair and makes it lustrous, soft and fluffy. Be sure you get Parisian sage (Giroux's), for this brand has the guarantee of perfect satisfaction or money returned printed on every package.—ADVERTISEMENT.

CAFE CROWD CHASES MAN WHO HAD POSED AS WOMAN DANCER

Police Ends at Police Station Where Iron Molder Says He "Just Wanted to Have a Little Fun."

The antics of an individual wearing a Mother Hubbard gown, lace bodice, cap, flimsy lingerie, white silk hose and dancing pumps amused customers at a cafe in Baden last night to such an extent that the men in the crowd vied with each other in buying drinks for the dancer.

As a climax to a daring dance, the bodice cap was doffed and a bald head exposed. The crowd chased the dancer to the Baden Police Station, where they discovered that they had been fooled by Al Sickman, 50 years old, an iron molder, who recently moved to Baden from Evansville, Ind.

"I just wanted to have a little fun with the boys," Sickman explained. He was booked for police court.

Resinol healed that skin trouble

When you think what a source of annoyance and suffering that eczema has been to you in the past three years, do you wonder I am thankful the doctor prescribed Resinol? The very first time I used it, the itching stopped for good, and the eruption began to disappear.

Resinol Soap should usually be used with Resinol Ointment to prevent the skin from becoming too dry. Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment are sold by all druggists. Resinol Soap helps clear your complexion.

CHILDREN MAKE GOOD IN MOVIES FOR MILK FUND

Photoplay to Be Presented at Victoria Theater the Week of Sept. 10.

Many of the scenes of the allegorical photoplay that were taken at Forest Park last week, in which hundreds of the workers of the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund appeared, have been developed and the product of the photoplay is enthusiastic about the splendid work of the children who were without motion picture experience. Their talent as amateur actors and dancers stood them in splendid stead, according to W. J. Eastman, the Historical-Industrial Motion Picture Company, which made the pictures and will present the photoplay at the Victoria Theater in the week of Sept. 10.

The work of taking the pictures began last Wednesday, and continued through the week and Monday afternoon. Hundreds of children were at the Jefferson Memorial Building in Forest Park promptly each day at 10 o'clock and remained as long as they were needed. All the children displayed a cheerful spirit in complying with the directions of the motion picture producers.

The photoplay at its beginning depicts Master Every Boy chopping down a cherry tree, after which he tells a "story" about who did it. Then a Good Fairy appears and takes Master Every Boy through several allegorical lands. In one scene George Washington is shown chopping down a cherry tree and then telling his father the truth, in contradistinction to the "story" told by Master Every Boy. In the lands visited by the Fairy and Master Every Boy he is shown the better way to live. The last scene depicts a carnival of queens where Master Every Boy watches a review of those who are good and those who are bad. He finally accepts the good and rejects the bad.

A different vaudeville program will be given in connection with each photoplay. These are being arranged and selections of performers made by the Historical-Industrial Motion Picture Company this week. The show is for the benefit of the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund.

A highly entertaining vaudeville program which was given at 5036 Ridge avenue last week, brought $28.77 to the fund, although the admission was only 5 and 10 cents. The show was at the home of Miss Marie Cody, who conceived the idea of it and directed it. Virginia Cox of 5075 Ridge avenue, did a butterfly dance and sang "You've Got a Million Dollar Smile." Margaret Cody was in the Fairy Dance. Marie Cody sang "My Romance" and "Yama Yama Man." Katherine Cox danced the Blue Danube and was in the Fairy Dance. Lavinia Hoffmann of 5077 Ridge avenue, recited "Just Ask Dad." Blanche Price danced the Glow-Worm Dance and was in the Fairy Dance. She also sang "Good-bye Broadway, Hello France." Celeste Frederick, 5120 Wells avenue, danced "Spirits of Autumn" and sang "A Cute Little Way All My Own," and "Come Out of the Kitchen Mary Ann." Helen McGuire, 5100 Wells avenue, danced the Roseleaf Butterfly and sang "Huckleberry Finn." Loretta Rogan, 4119 Flad avenue, sang "Love's Old Sweet Song."

A lemonade stand which was operated at 2800 Dickson street for five days gave $1.70 to the fund. The workers were Esther Brasler, 2810 Dickson street; Dorra Chazen, 2808 Dickson street; and Genevieve Friedman, 2802 Dickson street.

Dolly and Genevieve O'Hearn, Robert Fitzgerald, Lela May Brown and Elizabeth and Catherine Cooke gave a musical but delightful entertainment at 3553 Shenandoah avenue, last week, raising $1.53.

YOKOHAMA RESIDENTS PLEDGE FRIENDSHIP FOR AMERICA

Silver Bowl Presented to United States Admiral as Token of Friendly Relations.

YOKOHAMA, Japan, Aug. 1 (By Mail).—A notable demonstration of friendship toward the United States was given yesterday by the citizens of Yokohama, who arranged an elaborate entertainment in honor of Admiral Austin M. Knight and other officers of the United States Asiatic fleet. Admiral Knight came to Japan to convey to Emperor Yoshihito the thanks of the United States for the honors shown to George W. Guthrie, late American Ambassador.

The festival was held in the public gardens, which were beautified by the pink and white lotus blossoms of the season. A magnificent silver flower bowl was presented to Admiral Knight by Mayor Audo, in behalf of the citizens. The souvenir consisted of a scroll, signed by leading residents, asserting that the friendship between our country and ours is traditional. Yet, by the entrance of the United States of America into the present war our interests have become more closely linked than ever before, the friendship existing between us has no matured that today we are not only friends but allies.

MORE COTTON IN QUEENSLAND

War Stimulated Demand for Raw Materials for Australia.

BRISBANE, Australia, Aug. 29.—Chiefly because of the war, cotton growing is being taken up with increased vigor by farmers in Queensland, as shown by the large amount of raw material which the Department of Agriculture is receiving for ginning purposes.

Up to June 21, this year, the department has received 34,805 pounds from Queensland growers, and farmers are still sending in their pickings. Growers are guaranteed 3 1/2 cents a pound and any balance made after the department has paid the expenses of ginning. This year's cotton is from seed obtained from the United States.

National Anthem Silences Eastman.

FARGO, N. D., Aug. 29.—After attempts to make himself heard above the strains of "The Star-Spangled Banner," sung by a portion of his audience, Dr. M. J. Eastman, Social list editor and former Columbia University professor, was compelled to abandon his address here last night under auspices of the People's Peace Council. Home guards and soldiers then turned the gathering into a patriotic demonstration.

Movies for Americans in France.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—William A. Brady was re-elected president of the National Association of the Motion Picture Industry yesterday. Announcement was made that film manufacturers and distributors of the United States had volunteered to provide motion picture entertainment for American soldiers in France.

Thoroughbred Ram Sold for $1500.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Aug. 29.—A thoroughbred ram Bouquet was sold for $1500 by King Brothers of Laramie, Wyo., to Bobbs and Gillette of Buhl, Idaho, here yesterday. Four hundred and twenty-two sheep were sold at auction for $48,000.

For a Fair Street Railway Settlement

Lower Taxes Mean Better Street Car Service

The people of St. Louis want more street car service. They want car line extensions. They want rapid transit lines and subways.

The owners of the property want and should have some return on their investment. They have had none since 1910.

Since 1910 not a penny of street railway earnings has been paid to capital, except interest on bonded debt. The interest payments of $2,550,000 have each year been $500,000 less than the 8% fair return usually recognized by State Public Service Commissions on even the incomplete $38,000,000 valuation placed on the property by the St. Louis Public Service Commission in 1911. Interest payments have averaged $1,000,000 a year less than the suggested 6% return on the $60,000,000 value established by the City's consulting engineer in 1917.

Except bond interest, the Company's entire earnings for seven years past have been paid out for increased wages, for taxes and for extending and improving the service. The public has got it all. The owners have received nothing.

From July 1, 1910, to June 30, 1917, the Company put $19,509,748, 22% of its gross earnings for those years, into plant maintenance, renewals and new construction, and did not pay a dollar of dividends to its owners.

If public sentiment approves, the City Government will apparently consent to reduce its excessive taxation of street railway earnings—provided that what the City foregoes shall be used in these ways:

First, To give more and better service, which includes needed wage increases for street railway employees.

Either of the settlements proposed by the City Government would substitute sensible and helpful co-operation between City and Company for the long and costly warfare in which they have engaged over this issue of excessive taxation. Either would remove the near danger of a receivership, with probable loss or serious reduction of the free transfer privilege now enjoyed by the public.

ST. LOUISAN LEARNING WHAT THE WAR MEANS

Member of Hospital Unit in France Writes, "Give Me America First."

A letter written from France by Leighton Evatt, a member of the Base Hospital Unit 21, to Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Wiemeyer of 3011 Lafayette avenue, gives an interesting summary of his experiences and impressions. He wrote, in part:

"The novelty has worn off and we are getting down to business right and are starting to learn what this terrible war means. The boys here who go up to the front use the expression that they are going up to get their wooden overcoats. Everything is taken for what it is worth. I saw one fellow wounded all over on a stretcher, smiling. When I got through classifying all his wounds he said that he was going to get his wooden overcoat. I saw one fellow who had been hit in the head and was lying on a stretcher, smiling. When I got through classifying all his wounds he said that he was going to get his wooden overcoat. I saw one fellow who had been hit in the head and was lying on a stretcher, smiling. When I got through classifying all his wounds he said that he was going to get his wooden overcoat."

"An Irishman came down a few days ago and told me about a party of boches who were sent out, coming in contact with some Irishmen who were sent out to clear away some of the obstructions for a charge the next morning. They naturally had only picks and shovels and their detached bayonets. They met 'Fritz' and had a lively fight with their picks and shovels and I imagine if they had had bricks bats, they would have been right at home. 'Fritz' is what all Tommies call the Germans, and they tell something of what a 'strafing' they were getting from Fritz—and how they 'strafed' him back. Some of their expressions would make a stone monument laugh."

"There is also a lot of things I would like to tell but it wouldn't pass 'ze censor.' Fritz will get his good and heavy soon, if they don't finish it this year they will certainly end it next summer."

"I am cured for wanting to travel at all. I used to think it would be fine to travel all over Europe, but give me 'America first' and all the time. There is plenty of scenery in our dear old country and you can't get so far from Home Sweet Home. This is nearly too far."

NEW SHOES WON'T HURT AFTER THIS

Cincinnati man tells how to shrivel up corns so they lift out.

Such a relief! This kind of rough talk will be heard less here in town if people troubled with corns will follow the simple advice of this Cincinnati authority, who claims that a few drops of a drug called frezone when applied to a tender, aching corn stops soreness at once, and soon the corn dries up and lifts right out without pain. He says frezone is a sticky substance which dries immediately and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding tissue or skin. A quarter of an ounce, which will cost very little at any drug store, is said to be sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. Millions of American women will welcome this announcement since the inauguration of the high heels. —ADV.

DOZEN ARRESTED AS WHOLESALE BOX CAR

Accused of Stealing Worth $30,000 Yards at East St.

BUSINESS MEN

Railway Employees Have Worked Professional

Following the arrest of a dozen men charged with stealing merchandise estimated value from the East St. yard, the investigation, which was carried on for a month, has resulted in the arrest of the twelve men. The investigation was conducted by the St. Louis Police Department, and the men were arrested at their homes. The men are charged with stealing merchandise from the East St. yard, which is owned by the St. Louis and San Francisco Railway Company. The merchandise stolen included various items of value, including tools, clothing, and other goods. The men are being held in custody and are expected to be arraigned in court soon.

Extra size Aprons, bungalow style, in stripes and checks.

Dress Aprons, black and white striped, elastic belt, collar and sleeves trimmed with plain colors.

Aprons regularly worth $1.00. Thursday, choice for 69c.

WE were indeed fortunate in consummating a number of purchases from prominent makers, and it is quite a commercial achievement at this time to offer garments of this splendid character so much under their regular worth. The prices of staple cottons, out of which these garments are made, are higher than they have ever been, which makes this sale all the more interesting. The garments are splendidly made and smartly styled, and the values certainly justify you in supplying your needs far, far ahead.

$1.10 to $1.50 Aprons, 85c

A Wonderful Lot, Including

Aprons of cadet blue percale.
Apron dresses of flowered material with plain trimmings, or chambray edged with rick-rack braid, V-neck.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Criticism an Editorial.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Your editorial of Saturday, "Schrecklichkeit," and many others of the same nature can have but one object, namely, to stir up race hatred. To call an enemy names, who in this case has millions of the same race living among us, is to say the least, bad taste. Besides, your example to prove "Schrecklichkeit" is so utterly unjust that thousands who read it (as many times as this) have lost all faith in your fairness. In fact, it leaves but one conclusion, which was stated some time ago on the floor of Congress.

Do you suppose that the German aviators picked out on purpose the very spots where these hospitals were situated? The very fact that they injured their own comrades contradicts this assumption. Is your memory so bad that you forgot that French aviators have killed time and again their own countrymen in the occupied portion behind the German lines? And, is it so long ago that 200 children of a religious procession were killed by French aviators at Marietta, an open town, hundreds of miles from the firing line? Did the Germans ever claim that these were killed intentionally? I failed to have seen an editorial on this "atrocious" in your "big" newspaper. To sow the seed of race hatred, which is evidently your object, will result in the opposite from your desire. Britain has practiced it for centuries. It is identical with your noble endeavor. Do not forget, however, that we are not a British domain; not yet.

HANS BALLAN.

That Saloon Closing Order.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Give us a fair play, meet us even one-third of the way. The acting Governor, through some influence, has issued orders closing all saloons on the day our soldiers leave. This is not fair to the poor saloon man who pays a very heavy license to the State and at present pays 35 per cent more than formerly for his goods. It is un-American to deprive a man of his living in this way.

The Federal law prevents soldiers being served with liquor by a saloon man, but now the acting Governor sees fit to close saloons on several days. There is good and bad in every class of business, but you can find in the saloon business a fine class of American business men. It is unfair to punish the good saloon man for the action of the bad one.

FAIR PLAY.

Suggests Helicopter Prize.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Your editorial in Sunday's issue under the caption "Is the Helicopter Here?" attracted my attention from the fact that, in a general way, it states what the ideal flying machine is expected to do. It would give the United States an immense advantage in the present war if such machines could be built and sent to the front, without too much publicity; letting their actual use be their public demonstration.

May I not ask if it has occurred to you that the fulfillment of "this dream of the inventors" may not be realized in a very short while if a substantial prize were offered for the construction and demonstration of a machine that can actually hover, and will also be able to fly at high speed? If such a prize is offered I would like to enter the contest. If the war could be shortened a single day by the use of such a machine, it would be of immense value to our country and to the civilized world.

(The Government is searching persistently for airplane improvements and devices and there is no lack of market for a man who has a good idea.—Editor Post-Dispatch.)

Work and Wages.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

In the issue of Aug. 26 a Mr. Richard ask about fair wages. Would this gentleman state what he deems fair? It seems that some men think that if they are making $4 to $6 a day they should "receive the same." I know of some that have loafed year in and year out. When they go to work they expect to make as much as the best-paid man in the place. One of these told me that if I thought he would work for $12.50 a day and others working alongside of him were making $3 a day, I was mistaken. What do such as he think fair wages are? Why don't they ask to be president of the place when they ask for president of the place when they ask for work? One boss told me the other day that he hired a man for labor at $3 a day. After working a week he quit, telling the boss he could make that much bumming around.

H. H. L.

DOWN WITH THE KAISER!

Kaiserdom may read its doom in the note of President Wilson replying to the Pope's peace proposal. It declares war to the finish against the irresponsible, unscrupulous military autocracy which controls the German empire.

The message meets in full the expectations of all those who understand the war situation and the fundamental issues involved in the American war on the Kaiser.

The President's indictment of the Kaiser's Government is damning. Briefly he recounts the crimes of "the ruthless master of the German people" against morality, law and humanity, the wrongs he has inflicted and the rights he has trampled upon to gain world domination. He shows that a peace with the Kaiser would be a mockery, a truce preliminary to another assault upon other peoples.

The message, however, is not merely an indictment of the Kaiser's Government and a declaration of our intention to crush it for our own protection and the protection of other conquered or menaced peoples, but it is an appeal to all men who love liberty and justice to unite in removing the monster of ambitious despotism which menaces the rights of all men to liberty, peace and security under Governments of their own choice and control. It is a declaration of independence for the world. It raises a standard of freedom and justice to which all men of good will may rally in defense of human rights against tyranny and oppression.

The German people are included in the appeal. They are promised a swift peace on just terms, with security and opportunity, whenever they are able of their own free will to make terms and guarantee them as a people controlling their will and power.

In this respect the Wilson message is one of the greatest documents in history—greatest in scope of its call to nations to unite for freedom and just dealing and in the sweeping benefits it invokes for the peoples of the world. Repudiating all desire for material gain or reprisal or revenge on the part of the American people, the uncompromising basis of our warfare is thus stated by Mr. Wilson:

They (the American people) believe that peace should rest upon the rights of peoples, not the rights of Governments—the rights of peoples great or small, weak or powerful—their EQUAL right to freedom and security and self-government and to a participation upon fair terms in the economic opportunities in the world—the German people, of course, included, if they will accept equality and not seek domination.

The test, therefore, of every plan of peace is this: Is it based upon the faith of all the peoples involved or merely upon the word of an ambitious and intriguing Government, on the one hand, and of a group of free peoples, on the other? This is a test which goes to the root of the matter; and it is the test which must be applied. * * * Punitive damages, the dismemberment of empires, the establishment of selfish and exclusive economic leagues, we deem inexpedient and in the end worse than futile, no proper basis for a peace of any kind, least of all for an enduring peace. That must be based upon justice and fairness and the common rights of mankind.

He points out in rejecting the Vatican's proposal that this is practically the goal of the Pope's purpose, but that acceptance of the proposal would defeat the end he seeks.

For the American people the President's reply is a call to the highest duty to which the republic has been called—the defense of the rights and liberties of mankind against all oppressors. It is a call to a gigantic but glorious task, worthy of undertaking and finishing with all our energies and resources.

Our immediate work is to defeat the autocratic master of Germany and crush his military and political power.

Down with autocracy, up with democracy.

Russia apparently faces a choice between Korniloff and a military dictatorship and Kerensky with self-rule. At any rate the Slav anarchists must be put down, either voluntarily or by force.

THE UNFIT UNDER THE DRAFT.

Preliminary to framing a searching question, Dr. John H. Quayle of Cleveland assumed that four out of every five drafted men will be found physically unfit. The proportion will not be as great as that, but the figures represent roughly the rejections of volunteers for the army in time of peace.

Accepting this ratio for the sake of illustration, then of 2,500,000 men, only about 500,000 will be found fit for service. The 500,000, of course, will be incorporated in the army.

But what, asked the doctor in the Sunday Post-Dispatch, is going to be done with the other 2,000,000?

The cause of the rejection of the great majority of them will, he says, be minor defects that can be remedied in 30 days—heart irregularities due to alcohol and tobacco, bad teeth, hernia, flat feet. He suggests special cantonments in which the unfit shall be placed for treatment and made fit for war. Just as cogent a reason for such cantonments is that these men shall be made fit for peace.

The great movement in recent years against the tuberculosis scourge has prepared public thought for a general movement against other physical handicaps. Shall we confine attention exclusively to the difficult tuberculosis problem, when lesser maladies much more easily combated impose also in the aggregate large economic loss and a lamentable impairment of individual opportunity?

Whether or not utilized for war needs, why should 90 per cent of the men rejected in the draft continue under handicaps that diminish efficiency and shorten life, when it is within the power of science to remove these handicaps by treatment lasting scarcely more than a month?

The draft will supply the data on the extent of unfitness among our young men. Future public policy must be shaped in accord with what such data teach. Universal training is probably the best solution of the problem.

THE EMBARGO GETS AN EMBARGO.

Almost from the very opening of the war in Europe an embargo on American exports has been urgently demanded. To question our right to send certain of our products abroad was the object of a systematic propaganda lasting for many months. Resolutions proposing a prohibition of such exports were vehemently advocated in Congress and commanded a surprising support.

Exercising authority recently conferred upon him, the President has now decreed an embargo. Analysis of his proclamation shows that it is some embargo, too. Nothing resembling it has been known since the embargoes under the non-intercourse acts prior to the War of 1812, when practically all foreign trade was suppressed.

It applies to foodstuffs and metals and a great classification of manufactured articles, as well as munitions. No consignments may be sent abroad without an express permit from the Government, issued under such conditions as will make plain just what the consignment consists of, who ships it and where it is going.

Up to date, however, no public expressions enthusiastically approving the new policy have come from the late advocates of embargoes, in or out of Congress. The reason is that the embargo they have obtained is very different from the embargo they wanted.

What they wanted was an export prohibition inconsistent with neutrality decreed at a time when we were not taking sides in the European conflict. What they have obtained is an embargo decreed as an act of belligerency at a time when our entire future has been made dependent on allied success. The one was an embargo whose purpose to help Germany could scarcely be disguised. The other is an embargo studiously planned to inflict vast hurt on Germany.

The embargoes have got more embargo than they bargained for. From the substantial support it affords the entente as its workings become manifest, the country can get a good idea of the assistance the other kind of embargo would have given to Prussianism.

H. C. L. RECEIVES A JOLT.

The best sugar men have consented to a reduction of 15 cents a pound in the price of their product, which indicates a price to wholesalers in the neighborhood of 7.25 cents a pound, plus freight from the seaboard. The wholesalers promise that the further sum added to represent their profit shall be reasonable and Uncle Sam will keep a sharp eye on the retailers to see that they do not abuse the opportunity which the new attitude on the part of the sugar men higher up throws in their direction.

Even more significant than this striking contrast in sugar market conditions as compared with the absolute extortion of last winter is the meeting at Chicago of ice dealers said to represent a large proportion of the country's facilities in the manufacture and distribution of ice. Having received a hint from Mr. Hoover's organization, they are arranging joint action for reducing the price of ice.

Ice man David A. Brown of Detroit declares that the price of the ice used by the housewife to keep food from spoiling should at least be less than the value of the food thus preserved. When even the imperious ice men give recognition to so sweeping departure from price fixing according to what the traffic will bear, what other public-defying purveyors of necessities will dare to insist on the old h. c. l. percentages?

Perhaps reductions to reasonable prices are about to become as general as increases to unreasonable and burdensome figures were a few months ago.

GERMAN IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

The society which in past years has made instruction in the German language available on Saturdays for pupils of the lower grades of the public schools announces that there will be no change in the plan during the coming year. Funds sufficient to continue the lessons for some months are on hand, it is said; instructors have been engaged, and the School Board has designated certain school buildings in which the course will be continued. In fact, everything for the maintenance as usual of this familiar feature among St. Louis' educational facilities seems to have been provided, except, possibly, the pupils.

It is to be feared that the German language, in fact, everything to which the adjective German is applied distinctively, are not going to be as popular in the immediate future as in the past, and reason exists for believing that even the German classes in the high schools will suffer in attendance. This is to be regretted. German is a resourceful and expressive as well as a useful language and opens the door to much valuable literature. The German people will continue to be a great power in industry, trade, science and literature.

The dispute and odium which, through no fault of ours, but because of the acts of the German rulers themselves, will attach for many years to all things German, are one of the lamentable consequences of the war.

TAX ON LETTERS CUT OUT.

After the elimination of the stamp tax on bank checks, perhaps it was logical for the Senate to cut out also the 1-cent tax on letters that increased the postage on first-class mail matter from 2 cents to 3 cents.

Considering the average amount of correspondence of the average man not proprietor of a business, it was not a burdensome tax, and still, considered on the basis of rates, it was one of the heaviest taxes imposed by the bill. It proposed a tax of exactly 50 per cent on the amount spent by the individual for posting his letters. A proposal to take 50 per cent of the war profits of munition makers or of incomes amounting to hundreds of thousands a year struck some of the Senate sponsors of the bill with horror.

The increase in first-class postage, proposed as a tax pure and simple, analogous to the tax on freight bills and express charges, having been abandoned, no good reason now exists, of course, for continuing as a tax the proposed increase in rates on second-class mail matter.

PRIZE PROVERBS OF PAESIMONY.

In the tattered tents of poverty, peace has no friend.
The folly of youth is the fine of age.
Gold will buy anything that has a price.
The wolf of want is waste.
Youth is the today, old age the tomorrow of life.
In all countries, gold is food, drink and raiment.
He who saves money is wise—
He who wastes it is a fool.

Gold never feels hunger.
The law of wealth is profit.
No emperor holds the power of gold.
My life insurance pays you.
My bank insurance pays me.

In the blood—iron, in the pocket—gold.
Make a friend an enemy by an off-hand loan.
A wise man trusts in God—and a fat purse.
A cent saved will stay at home—
A dollar wasted will ever roam.

Gold is a good metal, evil men make it evil.
The woods of wealth may shelter a wolf.
The pot boils slow in desert lands.
Take in gold, give out none,
Then your fortune has begun.

Care meets the careless, halfway.
He is a wise craftsman who can mend a broken dollar.
God made no gold when he made man.
He who has gold has an army at his call.
He who waits catches wishes—
He who baits catches fishes.

Penury abides in a hut—plenty in a palace.
Money will keep you if you keep money.
If you break one dollar, make two dollars of the pieces.
Yes, remember this, all ye who have greed; how ornate his tomb,
No dead man is a rich man; keep ever before you a bee and a skull.
For epitome of the hire paid by time to industry.

The farmer alleged a freight train of the defendant company had hit one of his mules.

"Now, Mr. Jones," said the attorney for the corporation to the aggrieved party, who occupied the witness stand, "will you kindly tell the court whether or not your mule was on the track, the property of the defendant, when hit by the train."

"Well, sir," replied Mr. Jones. "I didn't witness the occurrence, but I suppose things must have been about as you say. This was a pretty bright mule, and I reckon if that train had took out after him in the woods which fringe the track there where he was killed, he would have got behind a tree."—Macon Telegraph.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

As we have no information bureau, it is impossible to answer queries by mail or telephone.

BEAUTY CULTURE.

M. V.—Moles have been removed by raw potato application or trying around them a white silk thread. Salicylic acid, moistened with alcohol or glycerine bound moist half an hour and with three applications will as a rule eradicate it. Apply only to the mole. It has been said that moles should never be tampered with, but should be removed by a skillful surgeon. Moles removed leave scars. A black mole is said to be always "a sinister lesion."

HEALTH TIPS.

B. F.—Salvarsan treatment, $25 to $50.
ALICE.—As to sunken eyes and dark circles a health writer says: Shrinkage is due to loss of muscular and fat tissue. It is not easy to offer a cure for such conditions; good health is the cure as far as there is one. There is no particular or specific treatment. Plenty of good food and renewal of interest in life are two of the best treatments.

HOUSEHOLD HELPS.

A. T.—Someone says: To remove stains by iodine quickly and without injury to fabrics dissolve a small amount of hyposulphite soda, by pouring boiling water over it. Into this place the stained garment and the stains will disappear like magic. Rinse well in clear water.

LAW POINTS.

ILLINOIS.—Illinois adoption law relating to petition to the Circuit or County Court for adoption of the name of the child, the age and the approximate age of the child. If it is desired to change the name of the new name and either the name of the child or the name of the parent, the name of the parent or of the surviving parent, or if it alleges that both such parents are, or that such mother is dead and that guardian of such child is known to petitioner, then of a near relative, or the name of such is known to petitioner, petition shall also state residence of such parties so far as known. It must be shown the Court that the adopting parents are fit persons. There is no waiting, so far as Illinois law goes. If child is taken from St. Louis Home, consent of the Home would be necessary.

WAR TALK.

MUTT.—Notify the Exemption Board of your ward at once.
J. M.—9th and 14th Cavalry, colored, 15th Cavalry, white.
B.—A member of the Home Guard is not exempt from draft if he is of draft age.
CONSTANT.—Refusal to serve would not help you. Draft physician will determine whether you are disabled.
R. D. M.—Common school education is sufficient for aero squadron recruit. See recruiting station, 2d and Olive.
R. L. H.—There may be 48,000 U. S. soldiers now in France, but as official figures are not given out, we cannot be sure.
ANXIOUS.—We have declared that "a state of war exists" some say it has existed ever since the Lusitania was torpedoed.

G.—(Correction.) Rivesaites, birthplace of Joffre, was misprinted Rivesaites. Pronunciation also misprinted, should have been Revalait.

M. N.—Motor truck battalion of the Joffre regiment has left Nevada for a camp in Rhode Island, it is said. Watch the newspapers for news of the Fifth.

TRADE.—Before the war, in 30 years British exports had increased 109 per cent. German exports 280 and United States exports 120 per cent. In 1916, Britain had 11,500 ships engaged in foreign trade, Germany more than 2000, Japan nearly 1000, while the United States had but nine ships so engaged. The per cent of exports with Germany than any other country, with France and the United States ranking second and third.

MISCELLANEOUS.
M. L. S.—Try writing to magazine.
ANXIOUS.—Excise Commissioner, Edward S. Lewis, City Hall.

SAM.—Red vaseline for eyelashes. If they grow too long, stop using it.
J. C. U.—Thank you for the note, or "the pleasure is mutual." A pro-solution will "glad I met you."

MRS. W.—Write Judge Matt. Reynolds, Central National Bank Building, in regard to Lewis Publishing Company's note.

C. F.—No one is in charge of such children. You might have a talk with the Judge of the Juvenile Court.

HYPOLITE.—Some French masculine names: Achille, Andre, Edouard, Germain, Jean, Jeanne, Milon, Maxime, Anan, Ouss, Othen, Raoul, Silvain, Hilaire, Urbain, Vivien.

J. B.—Tuna Salad: One large can tuna fish, 12 medium sweet pickles, 13 hard-boiled eggs, 2 bunches celery. Cut in small pieces and mix well with mayonnaise dressing. Into which has been stirred 1 cup whipped cream. Just before mixing slice 1 or 2 eggs and spread on top of salad. Garnish with parsley.

MISS A. R.—Rejected ammonia is said to remove rain spots; sometimes there is sponging with ether. One woman had given up in despair after trying everything until told of a pro-solution. She used it to treat the spots by rubbing with finger nail or an ivory paper cutler. The treatment was a success.

MAGIE.—The state of Missouri does not provide free text books for the public schools in the State at large. When school districts set aside a certain amount of money for free books, the State will allow such districts a certain amount from State funds. Not all school districts in Missouri have taken advantage of this provision of the law.

A. M. B.—Lice: Mix equal parts kerosene and olive oil. Rub mixture well into scalp. Then cover hair with piece of muslin and fasten about head, avoiding contact with gas jet, or flame of any kind. Next morning scalp should be washed with soap, hot water and strong vinegar. A fine toothed comb, wet in vinegar, should be used to remove "nits." Thoroughly dry hair with towel. This treatment should be repeated three or four times. Follow each detail exactly.

A. P.—It has been supposed that men in possession of supernatural powers, or following divine inspiration, could discover hidden springs or treasures by holding a rod of witch hazel in their hands, or stretched hands. The first diviner of whom history speaks was Moses, who discovered water in the rock for the Israelites.

Science, however, has long explained this mysterious power as a very plain and simple act. It has been observed that mineral springs, particularly those that contain a great deal of metallic salts, give off a strong radium emanation. If, therefore, a person susceptible to the action of radium, steps into the bounds of such a spring he will experience a certain sensation: his outstretched hand will jerk or tremble and a shiver will be felt in the hand. It was argued that if such emanations exist there must be a way to record them. An apparatus was constructed for this purpose by Prof. Schelling and Mayer of Vienna. They called it Fontascop or spring reader.

An index was made like the hands of a clock showed the presence of a spring and also of radium. The latest invention of this kind was made by Dr. Bernmann, a pharmacist of Holsheim, Germany, who called his apparatus Fontanometer, or spring measure. It is claimed to be more sensitive than any other, and not only locates the spring, but also tells how far below the surface it may be found.

The New Cook

By F. H. Sweet.
Written for the Post-Dispatch.

WHEN all I've got to say is 'it's swindlin' and 'robbin',' cried the woman, flouncing toward the door, 'advertisin' for a cook, an' then won't take her. An' that chit of a girl has hired another shik who ain't no more real knowlidge than herself, who'll burn an' scald an' overdo an' underdo an' call 'em killin'! An' I hope she will.' As they heard her heavy steps cross the outside porch, and a minute later the street gate slam, Mrs. Ames' face grew relieved, though without losing all its anxiety. She went quickly to the back door and turned the key, as if to prevent the woman's return.

Lois laughed. 'I'm afraid sh'd captured you if I hadn't been here, mother,' she remarked.

'I guess maybe she would,' Mrs. Ames admitted, 'though even while giving way I knew I'd rather do all the work myself than have her round. But I do hope your girl will be capable just now. The young man who asked me to take him to board is only two years from college, and already has had some nice contract jobs. Now he's got the contract for the big block going up across the street, and he wanted a place near his work. He spends most of his evenings drawing plans and reading and playing on the piano.'

'How did you find out so much in so short a time, mother?' asked Lois, amused.

'Why,' apologetically, 'he came in just as you turned the corner toward the drug store. Then he happened to touch a few keys on the piano while we were talking, and I'm enough of a musician to know it was a master's touch, and I said something about it, and he mentioned I reminded him of his mother. So we talked. He's got a house of his own, with a piano in the library, but it's over the other side of the city, seven miles away and too far to watch his work. He went up to unpack just before you came in, and I'm afraid he must have overheard what that terrible woman said. You'll like him, Lois, being so fond of music yourself.'

'Too bad I can't see him, then. A cook isn't supposed to visit the front part of the house, though I certainly shall dodge in occasionally while Aunt Helen and the boys are here visiting us.'

'Cook?' gasped her mother. 'Not you—the new cook you recommended?'

'Literally so, mother. Listen. When I heard that the Amazon demand $7, and realized you were about to give it, it struck me that $7 and board at home for a girl who loved home, was a whole lot better than $10 away, minus incidentals. And you know I can cook all right, even if I do brag about it some.'

'Oh, the cooking part would be safe. I wouldn't have to worry about that any, but you.'

'Then let's laugh a merry good-by to impertinent cooks, mother, for I won't be impertinent. What a relief that will be. And you are just as good a musician as I, except being out of practice. With a reliable cook you'll have leisure now. So I authorize you to entertain our distinguished boarder. Should be by any chance hear of my existence you may tell him I'm in the kitchen trying doughnuts for him.'

'Then shall I withdraw my intention of apologizing for intrusion into its sacred precincts in quest of meat hour information,' exclaimed a laughing voice behind them. 'Indeed, all my intention of going out is hereby renounced until I can locate that frying utensil and its periods of fragrant activity. Also this shall be one of my favorite hunting grounds hereafter. My grandmother used to fry me doughnuts. Anything to say?'

'If you'll consider me your grandmother, with a due regard to you out whenever you're in the way, replied Lois doubtfully, taken by surprise.

'Granted, so long as you fill the role of grandmother acceptably.'

The first evening's leisure she devoted to the piano, the second to the kitchen, where it appeared he was a pretty good cook himself, in a camping out way. For some weeks his attentions were impartial, then the kitchen gained ground. This went on for two months. But one evening, while Lois was mixing things for next day's dessert, he came in and stood beside her for some minutes in silence, and then said, 'Grandmother role is no longer acceptable. Lois, will you be my wife?'

Without removing any of the dough, she held out her hands. 'Want me this way?' she asked.

He caught them eagerly. 'That's what attracted me in the first place, Lois, not being ashamed to cook. I overheard it all.'

Save a Slice of Bread a Day.

"SUPPOSE," writes O. K. Davis in Everybody's for September, "Each one of the 20,000,000 families of the United States were to determine to do its bit by saving just one slice of white bread each day—that is not actually to cut that slice and put it by to become dry and uneatable—but to reduce its bread consumption by one good slice a day, representing about three-quarters of an ounce of flour. That would be 15,000,000 ounces of flour or 937,500 pounds a day—about 4750 barrels. The wheat in a barrel of flour averages four and one-half bushels, so that when 20,000,000 families in the United States save 20,000,000 slices of bread in a day they save about 21,599 bushels of wheat. At 16 bushels per acre, which is a fair average for wheat production in the United States, that saving of a slice of bread per family per day saves the annual wheat production of 1350 acres. If that saving were kept up

Sunshine and Shadow

THE other day I saw an old woman, bent and broken with the years, come from the rear of a saloon, a bucket of beer in her blue-veined hand. She was everything an old woman should not be. Her appearance bespoke a thousand defeated hopes. He body had not one trace of youth's loveliness. I could not but think that there was a day when even she was lovely, when Beauty's pink banners were in her cheeks and Spring's breezes swept over her face a mesh of golden hair. Sweet hearts were hers, for she had Beauty's potent magnetism. But the other day she hobbled bent and broken from a saloon with a bucket of beer for her "old man."

FOLLOW THE DOTS

Dear Folks: I wanted to tell you yesterday how much I appreciated your note, but I hardly had the time, as I had to do guard duty. I enjoyed the little comforts you sent very much. Candy doesn't travel very well, I am sorry to say, but everything else came through in fine style. One of the Frenchmen in the camp also received a note yesterday which he said did him a lot of good. He showed it to me, and at first I couldn't make it out. It was for

How It Started.

THE Kaiser and the Crown Prince were sipping a cordial.

"Father, who started the war?" quoth the Crown Prince, pulling on his cigarette.

"Why, we've proved it on England, France and Belgium, to say nothing of Russia," sharply answered the Kaiser.

"Yes, I know," said the Prince, "but who was really responsible?"

"Well," his father answered, "if you must know, it was like this. You remember when Roosevelt came back from Africa? I gave him a good time. I showed him all around and I took him out and together we reviewed the army. When we got back to the palace, Teddy clapped me on the back and said: 'Bill, you can lick the world!' and, like a damned fool, I believed him."

Bits of Science to Make Work Seem Easy

WATERPROOFING CLOTHING.

BY mixing one ounce of paraffin with one quart of gasoline, says a French scientist, a waterproofing material can be obtained that will greatly increase the life of shoes and clothing. In treating shoes with this mixture the shoes are warmed by means of a brush. Clothing may be dipped into it when cold. The solution is said to help preserve the softness and color of the material to which it is applied. In the case of uniforms, they can be so treated without removing metal buttons and other insignia.

MAKING SCISSORS LAST LONGER.

A pair of scissors are hung up, the blades open, they will last longer than those which are put away with the blades closed. Many scissors have the blades slightly bowed at the tip, which helps to make them cut quickly and accurately. When such scissors are left closed for any length of time the blades lose their springiness where they come together.

GETTING THE HANDBILLS DOWN.

EVERY shopkeeper has had trouble in getting handbills off his show windows. There are many lines of business where it is customary to paste these bills on store windows, announcing bargain sales and so on. Often it is a tedious task to get the bills down. One merchant solved the problem by fastening a wafer razor blade to a wooden handle and literally shaving the bills off.

OUR BIG INSECT CROP.

IT is said that insects cost the United States $100,000,000 every year through crop ravages. Many schemes have been tried to lessen this expensive pest, the most satisfactory of which is setting one insect to catch another. A species of insect that became epidemic in California threatened to seriously impair the State's orange groves. Government experts imported another kind of insect from Australia, which was anything but friendly to the first, and the trouble was soon in hand. The claim is made that the imported insects are harmless.

Not Needed.

LITTLE Harold was possessed of a deeply religious and at the same time a most practical nature, as was evidenced upon a certain occasion when, having climbed to the pinnacle of the roof of a very steep shed, he lost his footing and began to slide with terrifying swiftness toward that point where the roof swept gracefully off into space.

"O Lord, save me!" he prayed. "O Lord, save me! Oh Lord! Never mind. I've caught on a nail."

THE SANDMAN STORY FOR TONIGHT

By Mrs. F. A. WALKER.

Toby's Disgrace.

TOBY was a little white puppy with a black nose and a black-tipped tail. He also had one black eye, or the color around it was black.

Toby had two brothers, but they did not give his mother the trouble that Toby did.

One day when he grew pretty big he snapped at a little girl who was passing—in fun, of course, but the little girl did not know he was playing and she was terribly frightened, thinking Toby was a savage dog and going to bite her. The next day Toby's master put a muzzle on him, and when his mother saw that she began to weep.

"Oh, to think I should live to see this day!" she said. "A child of mine wearing a muzzle just like a common dog and your father such a finely bred dog, too. Oh, dear! Oh, dear!"

Toby trotted down the street as fast as he could when his mother began to cry, and at first he did feel very much disgraced and sorry, too, that he had made his mother feel so upset.

But soon he met another dog with a muzzle on, and he said to Toby, "Who did you bite? I suppose you are not big enough to fight yet."

"I bit a girl," Toby didn't mean to, though. I was just in fun and really did not bite her at all," explained Toby.

"I was in a terrible fight," said the dog, looking fierce, "and if I ever meet that other dog with his muzzle off, well, I'll show him, that's all."

"But don't let anyone think you are sorry or ashamed of the muzzle, Puppy," said the dog. "Make them think you are proud and that it is the proper thing. So long."

Toby stood looking after the dog a minute. He did not quite understand, and then his eyes looked very knowing and he turned and ran for home.

His two brothers were sitting on the steps. They looked at Toby in a most pitying way, but Toby scorned their pity.

"If you fellows don't want to be puppies the rest of your days," he said, "you'd better get busy. All the dogs that are dogs are wearing these muzzles."

"Oh, but mother says"—began one brother.

"Oh, mother is a nice, dear lady dog," said Toby, "but you don't want to be called silly, do you, tied to your mother, and things like that, the rest of your life?"

The brothers said they didn't.

"Then come along with me and bite someone so you can wear a muzzle, like mine," said the naughty Toby.

Out into the street they went with Toby barking and growling as they ran after him just as he did.

By and by a ragged man came along the street and Toby, thinking he would be good to practice on, cried, "Now, boys, all together, run at him, and you two grab his legs."

Oh, how the poor old man did howl! And the puppies, thinking it great fun, held tight to his trousers, while Toby growled as hard as he could and barked.

That night when Toby's master came home he brought two more muzzles, and the next morning Toby and his two brothers set on the steps, each wearing a muzzle, while their poor mother stood nearby with tears in her eyes watching them.

"I don't understand it at all," she said, shaking her head sadly and brushing away her tears. "I have brought up three families and this is the first time I ever was disgraced. One muzzle in the family was bad enough, but three, Oh! it is more than I can bear!"

And away she went, into the house, unable to stand the sight of the disgrace of her children any longer.

But Toby felt no disgrace. He felt very much grown up, for were not all the other dogs who wore muzzles grown up dogs? "Who wants to be a puppy, anyway?" he said to his brothers, who did not think it such fun as Toby did to wear the wire thing over their faces.

"But we cannot play with this thing on," said one.

"Only puppies play," said Toby. "Bark and look cross—that is the way grown-ups do."

And so they did as Toby told them—barked and looked so cross that everybody that passed stopped to laugh and say: "You cute little fellows!"

"They would not say that if we had off these muzzles," said Toby. "Let them beware. I shall not always wear mine."

And their poor mother kept on wondering what had come over her well-bred children, little suspecting that it all came about from some one making a big thing out of a little fun started by a puppy.

How to Can Authentic Directions for Putting Up Vegetables at Home.

Can your vegetables now.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture advises you to do it this way:

WASH your jars; wash rubbers; test rubbers for quality.

Set empty jars and rubbers in pan of water to heat and keep hot.

Fill wash boiler to cover jars two inches with water.

Heat water in wash boiler.

CORN.

REMOVE husk and silk.

Place Cobs in colander or cheesecloth square; blanch by setting in a vessel of boiling water or steam, covered tight, for five to 10 minutes.

Plunge into cold water momentarily.

Cut the corn from the cob.

Cut from tip to butt.

Cook corn for 10 minutes.

TOMATOES.

Place tomatoes in colander; steam by setting over a vessel of boiling water, covered tight, for 1 1/2 minutes.

Plunge into cold water momentarily.

Remove skin and core.

Chop tomatoes into medium-sized pieces.

MIXTURE.

MIX thoroughly two parts of tomatoes with one part of corn.

Pack in hot glass jars.

Add a level teaspoonful of salt and little sugar for each quart.

Place rubbers and tops of jars in position, not tight. Place jars on false bottom of wash boiler.

Submerge jars two inches.

Put cover on wash boiler.

Let water boil 130 minutes.

Start counting when water begins to boil.

Remove jars.

Make tops airtight.

Invert jars to discover leaks.

If any leaks are found, change rubbers and boil again 10 minutes.

BACHELOR GIRL REFLECTIONS

By Helen Rowland.

IT may be true that "conscience doth make cowards of us all," but it's beginning to look as though cowardice were making "conscientious objectors" of a lot of us.

Alas! It gives a girl silver threads among the gold to marry a lover and discover that she has tied herself for life to a Domestic Efficiency Expert.

A man goes into matrimony fancying that he is going to run things with his 50-horse will power, and is astonished to find that the most he can do is to exert a little one-horse won't power occasionally.

The man under fire in the trenches will no doubt sometimes wonder what in the world ever made him afraid of a rolling pin.

A HOUSE can be built, but a home must grow!

marked a clever writer. Well, just plant one, dearie, in a brand-new apartment house and feel the growing pains!

Why is "Faith" always pictured as a young girl clinging to a rock, when an old girl clinging to a beauty cream or a fat girl clinging to a flesh reducer would be so much more convincing?

The foolish thing about a man's attempt to deceive a woman who loves him is his unfeeling belief that he is succeeding.

Managing a husband consists in meekly deferring to his judgment in selecting a melon or what to have for dinner, while you proceed serenely to select his cravat, his socks, his religion, his politics and the place where he is going to live.

BEAUTY HINTS

By Pauline Furlong.

WOMEN who have lost a great amount of weight very rapidly around the neck, face and chin lose and flabby must start a strenuous campaign to develop the muscles in these parts and tighten the skin meanwhile.

It is absolutely necessary to hold the head high and the chin tilted slightly upward, and this practice also leads to erect carriage of the shoulders and chest, which always makes one appear more youthful.

The chin should be massaged upward, not deep enough to cause more sagging, but strenuous enough to stimulate the circulation, and the lower part of the face should be bathed in very cold water and rubbed with ice as often as convenient.

A bandage of alum solution, on a large piece of absorbent cotton, should be kept on the chin as much as possible. Use two tablespoonfuls of powdered alum to one pint of hot water, and after 24 hours strain and saturate the cotton with some of this mixture cold. Then bind it on the chin with a large piece of gauze, and when it is nearly dry wet the cotton again, keeping it moist all the while it remains on. This is a wonderful skin tightener, and should be used as often as convenient during the day or night.

Another remedy for loose, flabby skin on the neck and chin is the old-fashioned egg and alcohol treatment. Use the white of one egg and a gill of alcohol. Massage some of this with gentle upward strokes over the chin, and then bind the flesh with cotton and gauze in the same manner, holding the loose flesh backward until the bandage is fastened to the top of the head.

There are three kinds of fools. The born fool, disguised as a perfectly satisfied man. The fool who is conscious of his folly, but doesn't think you are. Then there is the fool who is unconscious of his little peculiarity. He is the man who is too good to live. Why then insist on his doing so?—Milwaukee News.

Government Food Experts Say EAT MORE CORN

From Washington the call has gone forth to "Eat more corn," and women throughout the Nation are responding.

Kellogg's—the original Toasted Corn Flakes—is the quality Corn Flakes of America, and has been for over ten years. To millions of homes it has introduced corn in its most delicious form.

These thin, crisp flakes with their fresh-from-the-oven taste are totally unlike any other corn flakes. They are made from the hearts of the finest selected corn,—the quality is in every way strictly maintained.

A Serving of Kellogg's for Less than a Penny

The economy of corn, its high food value, and the tempting flavor of Kellogg's Toasted Corn Flakes are doubling the use of this national cereal in these days of food conservation.

Kellogg's, for breakfast, is delicious with cream or milk, and for tea, luncheon, or as a dinner dessert it is a special treat with peaches or bananas.

A Problem in Time.

MR. PARSONS, a shrewd old farmer, was approached one day by a bright, breezy young fellow who was selling incubators. He gave the farmer the usual eloquent arguments. Of course he said there was not another incubator to be found the price of which was so remarkably low. Mr. Parsons did not reply. The young man talked himself out and had evidently made no impression. At last he said:

"You don't seem to be interested in incubators. In fact, you don't seem to appreciate these incubators."

"No," said the old farmer slowly, "I guess I don't."

"But," argued the young man, enthusiastically, determined to make a sale if possible, "just think of the time they will save!"

WHAT'S THE USE? CAVALRY recruit was suffering his first field day. He managed to control himself and his horse fairly well until the guns went off. Then the beast jibed and capered, and the rider dismounted rather hurriedly, but he was quickly back in his seat again. Again the guns sounded, and again the raw rider was thrown. This time he calmly went round to his horse's head and stood there holding the reins and petting it soothingly.

"Why, don't you mount again, man?" roared the Sergeant furiously.

"Wot's the good?" replied the recruit consolingly. "Those blooming guns will go off again in a minute."
